Gov. Faubus Closes Senior High Schools In Little Rock After High Court Action

Postponement Of Race-Mix Denied LSU

Ruling Comes Shortly After L.R. Decision

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A federal appeals court Friday denied an appeal by Louisiana State University to postpone integration of classes at the university's new branch college here.

The ruling by the three-judge panel of the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals allowed the 53 Negroes among the 1,430 students to begin their freshmen year.

Federal District Judge Herbert Christenberry issued a preliminary injunction Monday prohibiting university officials from interfering with Negro registration. The university asked the appeals court for a stay of Christenberry's order.

STATEMENT

A statement issued by Judges John Minor Wisdom, Joseph Hutcheson and Richard Rives said:

"No showing having been made to justify granting the application for a stay, the motion is denied."

The ruling came shortly after the U.S. Supreme Court denied Little Rock a 2½-year postponement of intgration at Central High School.

University attorneys may still appeal from Christenberry's ruling, but there will be no immediate temporary suspension of the order.

The university supervisors have a meeting scheduled on the main campus in Baton Rouge today. Chairman Theo Cangelosi of the board of supervisors said the group will consider legal and administrative action in response to the integration order.

Classes at the lakefront college, the site of a former Naval Air Base, began Friday with Negro students attending. No incidents were reported.

Josephine Eli, 17, and Harold Fontenette, 18, both of New Orleans, were the first Negroes to register at the college, which is beginning operations this fall with a freshman curriculum.

They were among a group of 23 Negroes that arrived shortly before registration started Tuesday and waited for four hours before

Monroe Utilities Commission Cuts Its Indebtedness

The Monroe Utilities Commission has reduced its indebtedness to approximately $140,000, Chairman French L. Smith announced yesterday.

Smith released the commission's first annual report, which showed the commission owed $496,964.35 at the end of January of this year.

But he said the commission has whittled the debt to approximately $140,000 since the report was made.

The commission, which will celebrate its second birthday in October, assumed a deficit of about $700,000 when it was established.

According to the official report, the commission had a net income of $1,663,951.45 during its first full year operation.

Of that amount, they paid out $667,936.95 on additions to the utility plants, $520,568.08 to the City of Monroe and $475,446.42 on materials and debts.

Thorugh a $4½-million bond issue, the commission expanded the power plant, added a gas turbine and increased the plant's capacity to 44,500 kilowatts.

In addition, Smith pointed out

Soviets Shell Japanese Boat

KUSHIRO, Japan (UPI)—A Soviet patrol boat shelled a Japanese fishing vessel which went aground near Suisho Island and then sent a boarding party aboard to "rescue" the 13-man crew Thursday night, according to reports reaching this city in Northern Hokkaido.

Suisho Island is north of the Japanese-claimed but Soviet-occupied Habomai Island group, westernmost of the Kurile chain.

MCELROY WARNS

U.S. To Resist Chinese Attack On The Quemoys

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy Friday delivered this country's biggest warning to date on the Formosa crisis by saying the United States "would resist an assault on the Quemoys by the Chinese Communists."

At the same time, McElroy told a news conference that scheduled U. S. military manpower cuts would be delayed. He added that "Communist China is a very large country. We think it is just as well to stay where we are" in manpower strength.

McElroy also would not rule out the possibility that American warships might convoy Nationalist supplies all the way to Quemoy Island. But he said there were no such plans now. Present policy is to keep U.S. ships three miles from Quemoy.

WOULD FIGHT

McElroy said he felt President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had made it clear that U.S. military forces in the Far East would fight if the Chinese Communists attempted to storm the Nationalist-held islands a few miles off the China coast.

The President said in an address to the nation Thursday night that he hoped the crisis could be settled by negotiation. But he warned that the United States "shall never timidly retreat before the threat of armed aggression" in the Formosa Strait.

In other developments:

—The vacation White House at Newport, R.I., disclosed that the President will reply within 24 hours to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's recent letter urging the United States to pull out of the Formosa area.

JES' Ramblin'

Heroic

An heroic little fellow, nine years of age, saved the life of his sister in Clayton the other day. He is Roger Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Carter Jr., and his sister is Marguerite Carter, seven years of age.

As the youngsters planned an outdoor barbecue, suddenly waxed paper became ignited and was blown against the little girl's leg.

With rare presence of mind, Roger tore off his shirt and catching his sister who was being badly burned on the leg, he smothered the blaze with his shirt. His quick action saved a more serious accident. The child is recovering in a Ferriday hospital.

Friends of Roger are loud in praise of his quick, well planned action.

Smooth

Chiang, Top Leaders Meet On Red Issue

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—President Chiang Kai-shek and top American and Nationalist military leaders were reported meeting Friday at Makung Naval Base in the Pescadores islands, an assembly point for American - escorted supply convoys for blockaded Quemoy.

The unusual meeting place, in the islands just off Formosa, indicated they discussed the critical problem of breaching the Communist Chinese blockade of the Quemoy islands, which are in sore need of food and munitions.

The hail of blockading artillery fire from the Red Chinese mainland emplacements that are Big Quemoy Island could threaten starvation for the Nationalist garrison and civilian population of more than 100,000.

BREAKS THROUGH

A Nationalist Chinese cargo plane broke through the barrage over Quemoy early Friday to deliver a handful of men and supplies. It landed on the packed-clay emergency strip on Big Quemoy's Shatao Beach under heavy fire and escaped undamaged 62 agonizing minutes later.

The few planes reaching Quemoy now attempt to spend only 10 minutes on the ground to escape damage from high explosives.

The Defense Ministry announced that more than 60,000 shells fell in the Quemoy group of island—the heaviest shelling in the four-year history of the Formosa Strait "vest pocket war"—between mid-afternoon Thursday and 7:50 a.m. Friday.

Reconstruction Again--Senator

ATLANTA (AP) — Sen. Herman Talmadge (D-Ga) declared Friday that the U. S. Supreme Court school integration decrees have placed the South in the midst of a "second Reconstruction."

Speaking from his farm home near Lovejoy, Ga., Talmadge called upon Southerners to "resist as our foreparents did during the first Reconstruction" following the Civil War.

Also commenting on the high court's decree Friday against further delay in admitting Negroes to white schools was Gov. Marvin Griffin. He noted that the state law requires the closing of any schools forced to integrate and declared that if any are closed it will be by federal edict and not by the Georgia people.

LITTLE ROCK

Opinions Given By Citizens On Ruling

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Violence, school closings, turmoil—these were the predictions of Little Rock citizens as they learned without apparent surprise of Friday's U. S. Supreme Court decision ordering integration resumed at Central High School.

"If the governor will go ahead and do what he said he'd do and close that school, there won't be any trouble," said A.W. Cates, a city bus driver. "Otherwise, it'll be just like last year."

A 32-year-old insurance salesman declared:

"We knew it was coming and the governor's ready for it."

Both Cates and the salesman referred to anti-integration laws passed by a recent special session of the Arkansas Legislature empowering Gov. Orval Faubus to close schools integrated by force."

"Here we go again," commented an office secretary to her companion as they passed a news vendor shouting the decision.

"If somebody doesn't organize and stop it (integration) things will be even worse than last year," said W. C. Green, a parking lot attendant.

"I'm just thankful that all my children are out of school," declared a grey-haired woman who refused to give her name.

A group of Negroes standing at a bus stop turned away as a reporter approached them. "We don't have anything to say," an elderly man in the group said firmly.

W. Monroe Man One Of 17 Aboard; Six Lose Lives

WASHINGTON (Special) —An unarmed U. S. Air Force Transport plane with 17 persons aboard - - - including a West Monroe, La. man - - - crashed in Southwest Russia with the loss of six lives Sept. 2 after it was intercepted by Soviet fighters near the Soviet frontier, the state department disclosed last night.

A-2C Robert E. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil E. Moore, 2902 N. 8th St., West Monroe, was listed as a crewman on the plane. The dead have not been identified. The other 11 men are unaccounted for.

DISAPPEARED

Another Louisiana airman also was listed as being aboard the ill-fated plane. He is A2C Archie T. Bourg, husband of Mrs. Mary F. Bourg, Morfelden, Germany, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie T. Bourg, Baton Rouge.

The department said it did not know whether the plane, a C-130 turbojet, was shot down or crashed for some other reason. But it did say the plane was intercepted near the Soviet-Turkish border by Russian fighter planes.

The aircraft disappeared under control of the fighters and later an explosion was heard, according to the department.

Question Youth In Deaths That Child Admitted

NEW YORK (UPI)—Authorities investigating 8-year - old Melvin Nimer's story of killing his parents said Friday that an 18-year-old former mental patient has been taken into custody for questioning about the knife slayings.

Dist. Atty. John M. Braisted said that William Fletcher Jr., a Negro, was arrested at Farmville, Va., after telling relatives that he was a suspect in the case.

At Farmville, Police Chief Otto Overton said that Fletcher had first admitted slaying government surgeon Melvin Nimer Sr. and his wife, Lou Jean, both 31; later blamed it on his "brother," and then recanted the whole story.

Fletcher was flown here, accompanied by a New York detective for further questioning.

In another development, disclosure of the deathbed statements of Mrs. Nimer cast added doubt on the boy's admission that he had killed his parents while they slept in their Staten Island home the night of Sept. 2.

Police said Mrs. Nimer had related in her dying moments that she had got out of bed upon hearing her boy scream and was stabbed by a masked man "tall as my husband, same build."

This tended to confirm Melvin's original story that a masked man had choked him and then stabbed his parents when they rushed to his aid.

Fletcher told Farmville relatives that he left New York two days ago to get away from "all the publicity and reporters," although he had never been known to have any connection with the case.

Detective William Joseph, who flew to Farmville Thursday night to question Fletcher, said the suspect had told him that he had been in the vicinity of the Nimer home the night of the murders.

FOLLOWING COURT ORDER

Resistance Is Mood Of South

ATLANTA, (UPI) — The Supreme Court's first specific school integration order struck a heavy blow Friday to much of the South. The Southern mood quickly became one of steadfast resistance.

Sen. Richard B. Russell D-Ga. said the South will not "surrender to the dictates of the NAACP." He accused the Supreme Court of setting the stage for a "national tragedy."

The people of the South now can only "prepare to resist, with every legal and political weapon at our command," said Louisiana State Sen. W. R. Raniach, state's top segregationist.

Austin R. Meadows, superintendent of schools in Alabama, said "you can have education or integration, but you can't have both in the South."

CONTRAST

By contrast, the high court's ruling meant to Negro attorney A. P. Tureaud of New Orleans a recognition of "the supremacy of law and order over the threat of violence."

Tureaud had just won a legal fight to have Negroes admitted to the New Orleans branch of Louisiana State University.

Not counting Arkansas, the decision had its most immediate effect on Virginia where several localities have delayed opening schools pending disposition of the Little Rock case.

Virginia school officials were reluctant to comment because local federal judges are expected now to rule quickly in light of the high court's action on pending integration cases. But Gov. J. Lindsay Almond has said flatly he will close any Virginia white public schools that enroll Negroes under authority given him in recent legislation.

Virginia Atty. Gen. Albertis S. Harrison said he still hoped the court would re-define "deliberate speed" and "reinvest in the states and localities some control of the public schools."

To most Southerners the ruling was not unexpected but they had believed the Supreme Court would not issue such a positive order.

Superstore Chain Plans Unit Here

A large national supermarket chain is planning to build a store on the south side of Monroe, it was learned yesterday.

Describing the contemplated structure as "ultra modern," a spokesman from Troy and Nichols, a local real estate firm which will handle arrangements, said construction will begin in several months.

He gave the location as being on the east side of South Second St., bounded on the north by Stone Ave. and on the south by Ouachita Ave. and quoted the price the chain will pay as $103,000.

The building will contain approximately 16,000 square feet of space, according to the spokesman.

Gov. Earl Long Will Take Stump In Home Parish

WINNFIELD (Special) —Gov. Earl K. Long, predicting a "solid front" for congressional candidate Rep. Lloyd Teekell, will take his favorite stump in his hometown Saturday, a day after another development occurred in the Winn Parish voters' probe.

Ex-Deputy Registrar J. L. Ferguson, who was fired early this week, was arraigned in court here Friday on a charge of "going to unusual places to register voters."

Ferguson entered a pleas of not guilty and was released on a $750 bond. Trial date was set for 10 a. m. Oct. 10.

Meanwhile, a friend close to the governor said Long will mention the names of "two or more" prominent Winnfield citizens who "have been taking their cooks to register for years."

Sen. W. M. Rainach, Summerfield, charged Long with sending his cook to register in a state-owned Cadillac driven by a State Trooper.

Long later answered Rainach, saying his cook accompanied Mrs. Long to the Winn courthouse. According to a Winnfield source, who asked not to be identified, Long will launch his second retaliation Saturday.

The governor is scheduled to appear on the courthouse lawn at 10:30 a.m. as part of a junket

GOV. LONG, OTHERS

La. Officials Hit High Court Ruling

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Louisiana Governor Earl Long, commenting on the U. S. Supreme Court's Little Rock integration decision, said Friday, "I'm sorry, I don't think it will help the colored people."

The governor, reached at Winnfield, his country home, said, "I just hope it doesn't bring any trouble."

The Supreme Court turned down the Little Rock School Board's plea for a 2½ year delay in racial integration at Central High School.

Both Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion, in Baton Rouge, and state Sen. W. M. Rainach, chairman of the legislative "Watch Dog" Committee on Segregation, in Homer, termed the court step "disastrous."

"This is disastrous to the South and to the sovereignty of the state of Arkansas," Gremillion said.

The original court ruling in 1954, he added, left to the U. S. District courts "the final determination of school integration with all deliberate speed.

"Here was a special situation developing in Little Rock," Gremillion continued, "in keeping with the original Supreme Court mandate. The court is now changing its view and saying it is mandatory. Apparently the original allowance for 'all deliberate speed' has been eliminated."

Rainach, in his view, said "The new decision was not unexpected. But it was a disastrous blow to the United States. The whole country is more deeply divided over the racial issue than over any domes-

Petition Served To Governor For Law Judgement

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus late Friday closed every senior high school in Little Rock, in order, he said, to avoid an "impending violent situation."

The school closure also will thwart the Supreme Court's decision Friday that Central High School, the crux of a running integration dispute in Little Rock, must be opened Monday with Negroes in it.

There are four senior high schools in the Little Rock district: Central, Little Rock Tech, Hall and Horace Mann. Horace Mann is a Negro school.

The proclamation ordered the schools closed at 8 a. m. Monday, 30 minutes before they were scheduled to have opened.

It also provided for a special election Oct. 7 so that the people of the Little Rock school district can decide whether they want the schools reopened on an integrated basis.

PETITION

The moment after Faubus signed the proclamation, Sheriff Tom Gulley of Pulaski County (Little Rock) stepped into his office and served him with a petition for a declaratory judgment on the school closing law.

A suit for declaratory judgment is a demand for a court test of a law's constitutionality.

Mrs. Gertie Garrett asked for the declaratory judgment. Her suit said she thinks the school closing law violates both the state and federal constitutions. Faubus has 20 days to answer it.

Attorney Kenneth Coffelt, who drew up the suit, said Mrs. Garrett is a "strong segregationist."

"She simply does not believe the school should be closed down and has engaged my services to try to prevent this by asking for injunctive relief and by attacking the constitutionality of the legislative act investing this power in the government," Coffelt said.

The proclamation did not say

Ike Expected To Turn Down Khrush Plans

NEWPORT, R. I. (UPI) —President Eisenhower is expected to restate firmly the U. S. policy of "no appeasement" in the Formosa Strait crisis Thursday in a letter to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

The White House disclosed that the letter was being sent to Moscow shortly after the President returned here early Friday and resumed his Narragansett Bay vacation.

It will be made public here Saturday after word from the U.S. Embassy in Moscow that it has been delivered to the Kremlin.

APPEARS CERTAIN

It appeared certain that Eisenhower in his reply will reject the main points of Khrushchev's lengthy communication on the tense Formosa situation which was received here last Monday.

The Soviet leader accused the United States of "aggression. . .direct provocation. . .blackmail and intimidation." He blamed this country for the "dangerous situation" in the Formosa Strait.

Khrushchev said an attack on Red China would be considered an attack on the Soviet Union. He called for withdrawal of the U.S. 7th Fleet from the Formosa Strait and other American forces from Formosa istelf in the interest of a "stable peace."

The President was sure to hold to the line he laid down Thursday night in a nationwide speech promising no "Western Pacific Munich" because it "would not buy us peace or security" and more likely would lead to a major war.

Eisenhower gave the first tip-off on the tone of his reply in a White House statement issued a few hours after receipt of Khrushchev's communication.

The President agreed that it was "a dangerous situation" in the Formosa Strait. But he blamed it on "the unprovoked military action" of the Chinese Reds in subjecting Quemoy to heavy artillery bombardment since Aug. 23.

Challenge Quiz Yanked Off Air

NEW YORK (UPI)—"The $64,000 Challenge," one of TV's most publicized quiz shows, was yanked off the air Friday less than a week after charges of a "fix" were made against it.

The program, scheduled to move to NBC-TV after this Sunday's telecast on CBS-TV, will be replaced by a special news program.

Virginia School Closes Doors To Prevent Mixing

FRONT ROYAL, Va. (UPI)—Warren County High School closed its doors Friday to keep out Negroes—the first Southern public school to do so.

The action—expected to be followed by a number of other Southern schools facing court integration orders—was accepted with apparent calm by a majority of local citizens.

The red-brick high school, only one in the county, sent its 1,100 white students home at 3:30 p. m. EST with instruction not to return until the inegration crisis is over.

The school board, faced with a court order to admit 22 Negroes next Monday, decided at a nine-hour meeting Thursday night to suspend all classes indefinitely.

A school board aide reported that "surprisingly enough" her office received fewer than 10 telephone calls from parents asking what would happen next.

"I guess they know we don't know yet what will be done about the education of the students," she explained. "Nobody has the answer to that. I wish we did."

Half a dozen top county school authorities drove to Richmond, Va., Friday morning to confer with Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. and other state officals. Before they left they confessed they did not know what the next move would be.

Question Youth In Deaths That Child Admitted

NEW YORK (UPI)—Authorities investigating 8-year - old Melvin Nimer's story of killing his parents said Friday that an 18-year-old former mental patient has been taken into custody for questioning about the knife slayings.

Dist. Atty. John M. Braisted said that William Fletcher Jr., a Negro, was arrested at Farmville, Va., after telling relatives that he was a suspect in the case.

At Farmville, Police Chief Otto Overton said that Fletcher had first admitted slaying government surgeon Melvin Nimer Sr. and his wife, Lou Jean, both 31; later blamed it on his "brother," and then recanted the whole story.

Fletcher was flown here, accompanied by a New York detective for further questioning.

In another development, disclosure of the deathbed statements of Mrs. Nimer cast added doubt on the boy's admission that he had killed his parents while they slept in their Staten Island home the night of Sept. 2.

Police said Mrs. Nimer had related in her dying moments that she had got out of bed upon hearing her boy scream and was stabbed by a masked man "tall as my husband, same build."

This tended to confirm Melvin's original story that a masked man had choked him and then stabbed his parents when they rushed to his aid.

Fletcher told Farmville relatives that he left New York two days ago to get away from "all the publicity and reporters," although he had never been known to have any connection with the case.

Detective William Joseph, who flew to Farmville Thursday night to question Fletcher, said the suspect had told him that he had been in the vicinity of the Nimer home the night of the murders.

Resistance Is Mood Of South

ATLANTA, (UPI) — The Supreme Court's first specific school integration order struck a heavy blow Friday to much of the South. The Southern mood quickly became one of steadfast resistance.

Sen. Richard B. Russell D-Ga. said the South will not "surrender to the dictates of the NAACP." He accused the Supreme Court of setting the stage for a "national tragedy."

The people of the South now can only "prepare to resist, with every legal and political weapon at our command," said Louisiana State Sen. W. R. Raniach, state's top segregationist.

Austin R. Meadows, superintendent of schools in Alabama, said "you can have education or integration, but you can't have both in the South."

CONTRAST

By contrast, the high court's ruling meant to Negro attorney A. P. Tureaud of New Orleans a recognition of "the supremacy of law and order over the threat of violence."

Tureaud had just won a legal fight to have Negroes admitted to the New Orleans branch of Louisiana State University.

Not counting Arkansas, the decision had its most immediate effect on Virginia where several localities have delayed opening schools pending disposition of the Little Rock case.

Virginia school officials were reluctant to comment because local federal judges are expected now to rule quickly in light of the high court's action on pending integration cases. But Gov. J. Lindsay Almond has said flatly he will close any Virginia white public schools that enroll Negroes under authority given him in recent legislation.

Virginia Atty. Gen. Albertis S. Harrison said he still hoped the court would re-define "deliberate speed" and "reinvest in the states and localities some control of the public schools."

To most Southerners the ruling was not unexpected but they had believed the Supreme Court would not issue such a positive order.

Gov. Earl Long Will Take Stump In Home Parish

WINNFIELD (Special) —Gov. Earl K. Long, predicting a "solid front" for congressional candidate Rep. Lloyd Teekell, will take his favorite stump in his hometown Saturday, a day after another development occurred in the Winn Parish voters' probe.

Ex-Deputy Registrar J. L. Ferguson, who was fired early this week, was arraigned in court here Friday on a charge of "going to unusual places to register voters."

Ferguson entered a pleas of not guilty and was released on a $750 bond. Trial date was set for 10 a. m. Oct. 10.

Meanwhile, a friend close to the governor said Long will mention the names of "two or more" prominent Winnfield citizens who "have been taking their cooks to register for years."

Sen. W. M. Rainach, Summerfield, charged Long with sending his cook to register in a state-owned Cadillac driven by a State Trooper.

Long later answered Rainach, saying his cook accompanied Mrs. Long to the Winn courthouse. According to a Winnfield source, who asked not to be identified, Long will launch his second retaliation Saturday.

The governor is scheduled to appear on the courthouse lawn at 10:30 a.m. as part of a junket

Superstore Chain Plans Unit Here

A large national supermarket chain is planning to build a store on the south side of Monroe, it was learned yesterday.

Describing the contemplated structure as "ultra modern," a spokesman from Troy and Nichols, a local real estate firm which will handle arrangements, said construction will begin in several months.

He gave the location as being on the east side of South Second St., bounded on the north by Stone Ave. and on the south by Ouachita Ave. and on the price the chain will pay as $103,000.

The building will contain approximately 16,000 square feet of space, according to the spokesman.

Petition Served To Governor For Law Judgement

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus late Friday closed every senior high school in Little Rock, in order, he said, to avoid an "impending violent situation."

The school closure also will thwart the Supreme Court's decision Friday that Central High School, the crux of a running integration dispute in Little Rock, must be opened Monday with Negroes in it.

There are four senior high schools in the Little Rock district: Central, Little Rock Tech, Hall and Horace Mann. Horace Mann is a Negro school.

The proclamation ordered the schools closed at 8 a. m. Monday, 30 minutes before they were scheduled to have opened.

It also provided for a special election Oct. 7 so that the people of the Little Rock school district can decide whether they want the schools reopened on an integrated basis.

PETITION

The moment after Faubus signed the proclamation, Sheriff Tom Gulley of Pulaski County (Little Rock) stepped into his office and served him with a petition for a declaratory judgment on the school closing law.

A suit for declaratory judgment is a demand for a court test of a law's constitutionality.

Mrs. Gertie Garrett asked for the declaratory judgment. Her suit said she thinks the school closing law violates both the state and federal constitutions. Faubus has 20 days to answer it.

Attorney Kenneth Coffelt, who drew up the suit, said Mrs. Garrett is a "strong segregationist."

"She simply does not believe the school should be closed down and has engaged my services to try to prevent this by asking for injunctive relief and by attacking the constitutionality of the legislative act investing this power in the government," Coffelt said.

The proclamation did not say

Ike Expected To Turn Down Khrush Plans

NEWPORT, R. I. (UPI) —President Eisenhower is expected to restate firmly the U. S. policy of "no appeasement" in the Formosa Strait crisis Thursday in a letter to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

The White House disclosed that the letter was being sent to Moscow shortly after the President returned here early Friday and resumed his Narragansett Bay vacation.

It will be made public here Saturday after word from the U.S. Embassy in Moscow that it has been delivered to the Kremlin.

APPEARS CERTAIN

It appeared certain that Eisenhower in his reply will reject the main points of Khrushchev's lengthy communication on the tense Formosa situation which was received here last Monday.

The Soviet leader accused the United States of "aggression. . .direct provocation. . .blackmail and intimidation." He blamed this country for the "dangerous situation" in the Formosa Strait.

Khrushchev said an attack on Red China would be considered an attack on the Soviet Union. He called for withdrawal of the U.S. 7th Fleet from the Formosa Strait and other American forces from Formosa istelf in the interest of a "stable peace."

The President was sure to hold to the line he laid down Thursday night in a nationwide speech promising no "Western Pacific Munich" because it "would not buy us peace or security" and more likely would lead to a major war.

Eisenhower gave the first tip-off on the tone of his reply in a White House statement issued a few hours after receipt of Khrushchev's communication.

The President agreed that it was "a dangerous situation" in the Formosa Strait. But he blamed it on "the unprovoked military action" of the Chinese Reds in subjecting Quemoy to heavy artillery bombardment since Aug. 23.

Challenge Quiz Yanked Off Air

NEW YORK (UPI)—"The $64,000 Challenge," one of TV's most publicized quiz shows, was yanked off the air Friday less than a week after charges of a "fix" were made against it.

The program, scheduled to move to NBC-TV after this Sunday's telecast on CBS-TV, will be replaced by a special news program.

Virginia School Closes Doors To Prevent Mixing

FRONT ROYAL, Va. (UPI)—Warren County High School closed its doors Friday to keep out Negroes—the first Southern public school to do so.

The action—expected to be followed by a number of other Southern schools facing court integration orders—was accepted with apparent calm by a majority of local citizens.

The red-brick high school, only one in the county, sent its 1,100 white students home at 3:30 p. m. EST with instruction not to return until the inegration crisis is over.

The school board, faced with a court order to admit 22 Negroes next Monday, decided at a nine-hour meeting Thursday night to suspend all classes indefinitely.

A school board aide reported that "surprisingly enough" her office received fewer than 10 telephone calls from parents asking what would happen next.

"I guess they know we don't know yet what will be done about the education of the students," she explained. "Nobody has the answer to that. I wish we did."

Half a dozen top county school authorities drove to Richmond, Va., Friday morning to confer with Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. and other state officals. Before they left they confessed they did not know what the next move would be.

Heroic

An heroic little fellow, nine years of age, saved the life of his sister in Clayton the other day. He is Roger Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Carter Jr., and his sister is Marguerite Carter, seven years of age.

As the youngsters planned an outdoor barbecue, suddenly waxed paper became ignited and was blown against the little girl's leg.

With rare presence of mind, Roger tore off his shirt and catching his sister who was being badly burned on the leg, he smothered the blaze with his shirt. His quick action saved a more serious accident. The child is recovering in a Ferriday hospital.

Friends of Roger are loud in praise of his quick, well planned action.

Reconstruction Again--Senator

ATLANTA (AP) — Sen. Herman Talmadge (D-Ga) declared Friday that the U. S. Supreme Court school integration decrees have placed the South in the midst of a "second Reconstruction."

Speaking from his farm home near Lovejoy, Ga., Talmadge called upon Southerners to "resist as our foreparents did during the first Reconstruction" following the Civil War.

Also commenting on the high court's decree Friday against further delay in admitting Negroes to white schools was Gov. Marvin Griffin. He noted that the state law requires the closing of any schools forced to integrate and declared that if any are closed it will be by federal edict and not by the Georgia people.

LITTLE ROCK

Opinions Given By Citizens On Ruling

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Violence, school closings, turmoil—these were the predictions of Little Rock citizens as they learned without apparent surprise of Friday's U. S. Supreme Court decision ordering integration resumed at Central High School.

"If the governor will go ahead and do what he said he'd do and close that school, there won't be any trouble," said A.W. Cates, a city bus driver. "Otherwise, it'll be just like last year."

A 32-year-old insurance salesman declared:

"We knew it was coming and the governor's ready for it."

Both Cates and the salesman referred to anti-integration laws passed by a recent special session of the Arkansas Legislature empowering Gov. Orval Faubus to close schools integrated by force."

"Here we go again," commented an office secretary to her companion as they passed a news vendor shouting the decision.

"If somebody doesn't organize and stop it (integration) things will be even worse than last year," said W. C. Green, a parking lot attendant.

"I'm just thankful that all my children are out of school," declared a grey-haired woman who refused to give her name.

A group of Negroes standing at a bus stop turned away as a reporter approached them. "We don't have anything to say," an elderly man in the group said firmly.

GOV. LONG, OTHERS

La. Officials Hit High Court Ruling

BATON ROUGE (AP — Louisiana Governor Earl Long, commenting on the U. S. Supreme Court's Little Rock integration decision, said Friday, "I'm sorry, I don't think it will help the colored people."

The governor, reached at Winnfield, his country home, said, "I just hope it doesn't bring any trouble."

The Supreme Court turned down the Little Rock School Board's plea for a 2½ year delay in racial integration at Central High School.

Both Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion, in Baton Rouge, and state Sen. W. M. Rainach, chairman of the legislative "Watch Dog" Committee on Segregation, in Homer, termed the court step "disastrous."

"This is disastrous to the South and to the sovereignty of the state of Arkansas," Gremillion said.

The original court ruling in 1954, he added, left to the U. S. District courts "the final determination of school integration with all deliberate speed.

"Here was a special situation developing in Little Rock," Gremillion continued, "in keeping with the original Supreme Court mandate. The court is now changing its view and saying it is mandatory. Apparently the original allowance for 'all deliberate speed' has been eliminated."

Rainach, in his view, said "The new decision was not unexpected. But it was a disastrous blow to the United States. The whole country is more deeply divided over the racial issue than over any domes-

Foreign Relations Committee, said Eisenhower should call Congress into session if he feels there is danger of war.

—British Ambassador Sir Harold Caccia denied his country was trying to tell the United States how to handle the crisis but said he hoped it could be settled by negotiation, not force.

—Dulles said reaction so far to the President's speech from U.S. allies was "very encouraging."

McElroy's statement was the most straightforward warning to the Chinese Communists yet issued by any U.S. official.

He said his interpretation was "that the Quemoys are regarded as a major part of the Taiwan (Formosa) defensive system; that the Chinese Communists already have announced that their taking of Quemoy and Matsu is simply a part of their attack on Formosa."

McElroy said his decision to delay armed forces manpower cuts was "not necessarily" related to the Formosa crisis. But he added a note of warning about the size of Communist China and said "if this were the Middle East, it might be a little different."

pant in extra - curricular affairs at West Monroe High School before he enlisted in the Air Force in June, 1955. He has been serving overseas for about 16 months.

The plane was making a flight scheduled entirely within Turkish airspace. It was to have gone from Adana, on the Mediterranean, to Trabzond, on the Black Sea, to Van, on Lake Van in Turkey, and back to Adana.

The United States asked Russia and Iran Sept. 6 for any available information about the four-engine plane and its crew. The State Department said Russia informed the U.S. Embassy in Moscow yesterday that remnants of a burned U.S. Air Force plane had been found at a point about 25 to 30 miles inside Soviet territory.

The spot was located at about 35 miles northwest of Yerevan, Capital of the Armenian Soviet Socialist Republic.

The State Department said Russia reported that remains discovered so far indicated six crewmen perished. Richard H. Davis, ranking member at the U. S. Embassy, pressed the Soviets without success for information about the other 11 men, it said.

Davis also asked the Soviets to conduct a search for the missing men and to permit an American official to visit the site of the crash. He requested that the remains of the six victims be transferred to the United States for burial.

The department said Russia charged that the American plane intentionally flew deep inside Soviet air space. The Russians protested the violation.

REBUTTAL

In rebuttal, the department said an investigation showed the U. S. plane was intercepted Sept. 2 by Soviet fighters in the Turkish-Soviet border area near Kars in Turkey. Kars is about 35 miles from the border.

The department said "the course of the C130 was then directed eastward under control of the Soviet aircraft. Following this the sound of an explosion was heard and a column of smoke was seen rising from behind a range of hills within Soviet territory."

It said the U. S. Embassy in Moscow was being instructed to press Russia "on an urgent basis" to locate and return the 11 missing airmen.

The department said it was unable to state the purpose of the American plane's flight. It also was unable to say whether C130's normally carry a crew of 17.

Gov. E. Long Takes Stump At Winnfield

through Grant, Winn and Natchitoches parishes.

CAMPAIGNING

Long is campaigning for Teekell in opposition to Alexandria attorney Harold McSween.

He said Friday, "The feature attraction is going to be here in Winnfield. We're going to have every legislator in the Eighth District on the stand with Teekell, except probably Rep. Robert Munson of Rapides Parish and Sen. Speedy Long, Jena."

Munson, a Rapides colleague of Teekell, is a staunch Long foe.

Sen. Long, who represents three parishes in the district, was third man in the first Democratic primary for the seat of the late Dr. George S. Long, the governor's brother. The Jena senator is taking no sides in the September 27 running.

"This thing is going to turn around and increase our majority," the governor continued. "The only thing we've got to fight now is a lot of money. Even Mayor Morrison in New Orleans is raising money for McSween."

McSween, stumping the eight parishes in the district, has needled the governor about a house he is building in a swanky Baton Rouge neighborhood.

"I'm 63," said Long. "I have more right to a house than he does. McSween lives in a $75,000 house his papa built for him.

"My Pa didn't leave me anything but good health and a good name. McSween has got a good papa, but the papa had a spoiled son. I guess if I'd of had that much money, I'd have been spoiled too."

Long said he would open his speaking tour Friday at 6:30 p.m. in Dry Prong, moving to Colfax an hour later.

On Saturday, he opens up in Montgomery at 9:30 a.m., moves to Winnfield at 10:45 a.m., to Dodson at 1:15 p.m., to Sikes at 2:30, to Tullos at 4:30, to Olla at 6:00 and ends up at Jena at 7:30 that night.

Gov. E. Long Takes Stump At Winnfield

CAMPAIGNING

Long is campaigning for Teekell in opposition to Alexandria attorney Harold McSween.

He said Friday, "The feature attraction is going to be here in Winnfield. We're going to have every legislator in the Eighth District on the stand with Teekell, except probably Rep. Robert Munson of Rapides Parish and Sen. Speedy Long, Jena."

Munson, a Rapides colleague of Teekell, is a staunch Long foe.

Sen. Long, who represents three parishes in the district, was third man in the first Democratic primary for the seat of the late Dr. George S. Long, the governor's brother. The Jena senator is taking no sides in the September 27 running.

"This thing is going to turn around and increase our majority," the governor continued. "The only thing we've got to fight now is a lot of money. Even Mayor Morrison in New Orleans is raising money for McSween."

McSween, stumping the eight parishes in the district, has needled the governor about a house he is building in a swanky Baton Rouge neighborhood.

"I'm 63," said Long. "I have more right to a house than he does. McSween lives in a $75,000 house his papa built for him.

"My Pa didn't leave me anything but good health and a good name. McSween has got a good papa, but the papa had a spoiled son. I guess if I'd of had that much money, I'd have been spoiled too."

Long said he would open his speaking tour Friday at 6:30 p.m. in Dry Prong, moving to Colfax an hour later.

On Saturday, he opens up in Montgomery at 9:30 a.m., moves to Winnfield at 10:45 a.m., to Dodson at 1:15 p.m., to Sikes at 2:30, to Tullos at 4:30, to Olla at 6:00 and ends up at Jena at 7:30 that night.

The source of the river Thames, which flows through London, is a spring in a meadow in the Cotswald countryside.

MERCY SCALES PRISON WALLS FOR HER — Joan Losasso, 11, victim of a rare blood disease requiring continued transfusions, will get a new lease on life from inmates of New Jersey's state prison. Officials okayed an offer by 100 convicts to donate blood to Joan, who suffers from aplastic anemia, a failure of the body to replenish the blood supply. The youngster, fonding her pet dog, Brownie, has had about 200 transfusions since birth. Doctors say she has a chance to lick the condition if she can keep up her blood supply for another three or four years. (AP Wirephoto)

Texas' Split Party

The state of Texas presents a first-class demonstration that the cleavage inside this country's two principal parties—Democrat and Republican—is greater than the difference between those two parties.

In the United States it is difficult to see much difference between the Republican and Democratic parties but each of those parties is split into two divisions—conservative and radical.

In Texas this cleavage in the Democratic party is sharp and well-defined and has been going on for many years. Every time a state convention is held there is a big fight over control and the issue is always conservatism vs. radicalism.

Gov. Price Daniel and Sen. Ralph Yarborough head the respective factions under the present setup, although the leadership has changed from time to time throughout the many years that the party split has existed. Daniel defeated Yarborough in the last race for governor but a senate vacancy shortly after that race gave Yarborough an opportunity to make his fifth political race and, for the first time, he won.

At the convention in Texas, Price united the conservative and moderate forces to trounce Yarborough's radicals and gain control.

Price's victory just about tells the story on how closely Texas is divided. The forces are so nearly equal that the power of the governor is enough to give him control.

Texas is perhaps the only state in which the conservative vs. radical issue is so clearly defined. The whole United States, however, is more clearly divided along these lines than any other and this issue could be the best basis for separate parties. Then the difference between the two parties would be clearly understood.

Under the present setup one segment of the Republican party stands for the same thing that one segment of the Democratic party approves. The other portion of the Republican party goes along with the other part of the Democratic party on things it approves.

Dying Morse Code

The United States government is clinging doggedly to a mode of communication which is said to be destined soon to become as dead as a dodo.

A news dispatch out of Washington says:

"A once-vital language that knitted the world together is dying. Morse code, now the specialty of a retiring group of older men, seems destined eventually to have as few living users as Sanskrit" (an ancient Aryan language of the Hindus of India.)

"Teleprinters, facsimile circuits and automatic translators that require no rarer skill than typing are talking over. Today's beginning telegrapher doesn't need to know Morse at all.

"One by one the railroads are abandoning the code that revolutionized traffic safety and scheduling. On the international airways some Morse is still heard but much of that is both coded and transmitted by machine.

"Even the Boy Scouts of America, long Morse devotees, have lessened the requirement for their amateur radio merit badge. Scout officials had considered dropping it completely but changed their minds after appeals from the armed services. Soldiers have saved their lives by rudimentary knowledge of the code."

How many motion pictures made in recent years show soldiers communicating by Morse code? All radio communication is shown being made directly by word of mouth.

Not many years after wireless telegraphy was invented, when Morse code was the only known means of communicating in this manner, the federal government began licensing "ham" radio operators who could build their own sets and who could pass Morse code tests. Close to a half century later the same rules, as far as Morse code is concerned, are still in effect. Virtually the same rules also apply to one's ability to build his own set. An amateur radio operator may use a set he has purchased but he must know how to build one before he can get a license.

In other words, with Morse code practically ready to pass out of existence and with commercial manufacture of broadcasting sets cheaper, safer and more practical, the two chief requirements of an amateur are that he know the code and that he be able to build a set.

It has been argued that anyone who can build a set is more capable of operating one, yet we have plenty of auto drivers who don't know how to build an auto or even how to repair one.

About the only argument in favor of the Morse code requirement for obtaining an amateur radio operator's license is that if the code requirement were to be abandoned there would be too many amateur operators. As an additional deterrent against obtaining an amateur's license, it would be about as sensible to require that all such licensees be able to pass tests in Greek and Sanskrit.

If Morse code is about to pass into the dodo class as far as practical use is concerned, why still require it in obtaining an amateur radio operator's license?

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

'Indirect Aggression' Of Dulles Hit By Communists

The Communists are attacking Secretary of State John Foster Dulles for using what they c'' a is a new term in international relations, namely, "indirect aggression." Actually indirect aggression may be as potent or more potent than direct participation because while more subtle, it has, in such an instance as Iraq, proved to be totally effective. Indirect aggression has been a competent weapon of Soviet operations since about 1920 when Communist parties were organized in every country both as a fifth column and an espionage corps.

General James M. Gavin refers to this, from a military standpoint, in his book, "War and Peace in the Space Age," one of the most significant documents published in recent years:

". . . The pattern that we have recently seen of the Communists supplying arms to the Algerian Nationalists will be repeated in other areas. Arms support, followed by economic, technical, and political penetration, is the harbinger of armed intervention—if armed intervention proves really necessary. Regardless of the means required, the goal will be sought, always with due care to avoid giving us an issue worthy of a Washington-Moscow missile exchange."

Whereas many Americans who deal with this problem are looking for the big war, Soviet Russia intercedes in small affairs, keeping the entire world in turmoil all the time. It is possible, if this strategy is successful, for Soviet Russia to win control of people and territory without ever fighting a big war. The United States, and for that matter, no Western country is in a position to engage in indirect intervention, because we have never been able to organize a pro-Western party. Perhaps the closest to it might have been those Christian elements in Poland or Lebanon which decline to accept Communist control of their souls. But even such groups have not been mobilized for political resistance.

There are American groups in the United States who believe that the resistance to Soviet Russia among the satellites is inevitable and that all that is required is for the United States to spend a lot of money and do a lot of propaganda and that the people would rise against the Kremlin and die for a good cause. They also believe—some of them—that when such an event happens, the United States will hop in and help the insurgents.

In Poland and Hungary they saw that that did not happen. Neither the United States nor the United Nations intervened effectively. The insurgents rose and were killed. It is not likly that there will be similar uprisings, for one reason because the American propaganda is empty. It offers neither a moral cause nor material support.

One cannot emphasize too often that the pattern of war has changed. Generally speaking. Soviet Russia gained power in the Middle East by the use of radio as a weapon. As employed by Nasser it became a fierce weapon which drove men to frenzy. Nasser learned his technique not from the Russians but from Nazi Germany. The United States, which has used the radio most efficiently to sell consumers' goods, has failed to understand how to use it to sell ideas. Perhaps the fault lay in the fact that we have no ideas to sell.

Ideas may be false; they may be true. They are bullets of words, phrases, slogans that are imbedded in the minds of men who, in time, believe them whether true or false. And believing them, they will fight for them. Nationalism is such an idea which in some places is true, in others false. Is an Egyptian an Arab? No ethnological study of the Egyptian people can possibly lead to the conclusion that all Egyptians are Arabs or that most of them are. Egypt has been conquered by and has conquered for many peoples to be racially homogeneous. What is more, Egypt has always been a land of plural marriages and human beings descend racially from their mothers as well as their fathers.

Farmers At Crossroads In Deciding Upon Crops

(Shortly before adjourning, Congress rushed through a bill that rewrites much basic agricultural legislation — especially for cotton and corn. This three-part series discusses just how the bill will work, what the long-range farm price outlook is, and the probable course of the next round in the ever-present political battle over farming.

WASHINGTON — Farmers, as Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson is always saying, are at the crossroads. Within a few months several million of them are going to have to make some tough decisions that could determine for years the route that U. S. Agriculture follows.

The key fact of the 1958 Agriculture Act, passed in the closing days of the 85th Congress, is that for two major commodities it leaves the choice of farm programs to farmers themselves.

Cotton and corn producers will be asked, before next planting time, to choose between:

1. A relatively high-price, low-volume system that has dominated agriculture most of the time since World War II, and

2. A lower-price, higher-volume production pattern, generally favored by Benson and the American Farm Bureau Federation.

It looks simple. Theoretically, a farmer can make just as much money—or as little—either way. In practice, however, picking the right choice will take some careful calculation.

Take cotton, for example. Assuming that cotton growers do not discard all programs at their annual referendum next December (which is virtually impossible), then early next each farmer can select one of these plans:

1. The A Plan, under which farmers plant their normal allotment. They'll be guaranteed supports at a minimum of 80 per cent of parity, but only if they sell the cotton outright to the government. They can't get a support loan and redeem the cotton later if the market price rises.

2. The B Plan, under which farmers can plant up to 40 per cent more acreage. They'll receive supports 15 points less than the A plan farmers (meaning a minimum 65 per cent) and will be eligible for loans, purchase agreements or any other support system.

Here's another wrinkle to keep in mind: The new law requires the government to put any A-Plan cotton it buys right back on the market at 10 per cent more than the B-Plan price, or a minimum of 71.5 per cent of parity.

Suppose parity next year is 37.5 cents a pound. A—Plan farmers will be guaranteed a 30-cent support rate, and will naturally sell most of their fiber to the government. The government will put the cotton back on the market at 26.8 cents a pound. The B-Plan support rate would be 24.4 cents a pound. The average price would fall somewhere between 24.4 cents and 26.8 cents.

Obviously, if most cotton farmers pick Plan A, the market price will be higher and the B-Plan farmers will benefit because of their bigger acreage. If the B-Plan is more popular, the market price will be lower. To some extent, the farmers who do not follow the majority trend will be better off than those who do—all other things being equal.

Right now it's anybody's guess how the farmers will decide. One thing is certain: with the national minimum allotment dropping to 16 million acres from 17.5 million next year, all cotton producers with allotments of more than 10 acres face an acreage cut of between 10 and 20 per cent. This may be an incentive to pick the B Plan.

Farmers with more than one farm cannot hedge on the decision. They must manage all of their farms under the same plan.

Price will also be affected by a proviso gearing cotton supports to the average staple of the crop, not the old standard of seven-eighths inch middling. This will move the whole scale of supports down slightly.

After 1960, there will be no choice of plans. The supports floor will gradually sink to 65 per cent of parity for all cotton; but by that time there will be a new president, a new Congress and very likely a new farm law.

On paper, the corn farmers have a simpler choice. They choose between:

1. The present system, with a support floor of 75 per cent of parity and declining allotments, or

2. No allotments, with price supports 10 per cent below the average market price of the preceding three years, or 65 per cent of parity, whichever is higher. All corn farmers must abide by the majority decision.

The second choice is the "market price" plan, conceived by the Farm Bureau. It has been denounced by corn-belt Congressmen because it would scrap the "parity yardstick", which bases rates on the coast of farming.

The Farm Bureau retorts that most corn producers ignore allotments anyway and are thus not eligible for full price supports. They also insist that the free market should determine support prices.

The 1958 Agriculture Act also guarantees that rice farmers will have no acreage cuts. Their price support floor is 75 per cent of parity until 1961. Then it will drop to 65 per cent over a two-year period.

The wool subsidy program will be extended until 1962 and additional money is provided for payments.

For cotton and corn farmers, certainly two of the most deminant groups in American agriculture, a decision must be based on the hard facts of how their choice will affect their bank accounts.

But they will be making decisions for other farmers, too. Congress and the Administration will be watching the voters, hoping to find a way to measure the farmer's feelings on basic economic issues concerning every rural county in America.

Maine Changing Election Date

Maine will join the rest of the Union on election day in 1960 and a pity it is, too. Politicians just can't imagine the national election two years hence without that catch phrase "As goes Maine, so goes the Union." It was frequently in error, but political barometers, like those forecasting weather, are amusing to watch.

Now that Maine's last September election has been held in advance of the November voting in 47 other states, idle speculation centers on how soon that furthest northeast section of the U. S. will break away from its rockbound Republican presidential ties. For only once since the GOP became a going concern in 1860 has Maine voted for other than a Republican for President. Woodrow Wilson carried it in 1912.

In 1936, it was one of two states carried by Alf Landon, the Republican nominee. Only Vermont surpasses this record, having always gone for the GOP nominee. But Maine is changing, as the once majority party was reminded this week, when it was able to salvage but one congressman in the election of Governor, Senator and three House members.

The change is attributed, by those with knowledge of Maine politics, to growing industrialization, resulting in an increasing organized labor vote, and a realization that with Democrats in control of Congress, a state which is only 34th in population has little to gain by continuing its Republican allegiance.

Its reputation as a political barometer might be enhanced if it continued to vote for state and congressional candidates in September. Since the New Deal took over in 1932, Maine has proved an accurate barometer on the presidential race in the following November in only two out of seven elections, regaining its reputation for prescience only in the first Eisenhower election in 1952.

These political and historical footnotes merely emphasize whatever importance Maine's last offbeat election may have. Political observers with Republican leanings are inclined to call attention to local circumstances affecting the Maine result which would not affect the results of the November elections in other states. But the Maine outcome does afford a basis for predictions that recent Republican hopes of an improvement in their chances will not be verified.

Since the two most industrialized districts in Maine, with strong labor votes, went Democratic, partly because of extensive unemployment, it may be speculated that unemployment will have an important effect in other states too. Probably it will have more impact on senatorial than congressional races, for many districts where employment has been extensive are already represented by Democrats, and the national tendency is to blame the party in power for the business recession.

For example, Republican Senators William A. Purtell (Conn.), Charles E. Potter, (Mich.), Arthur V. Watkins (Utha) and Barry Goldwater (Arizona) are among the GOP senators seeking election who must combat the unemployment issue, and the states of New York, Pennsulvania, Indiana, and New Jersey where new Republican candidates are taking over to succeed retiring solons are others in which the recession will be stressed by Democratic candidates as a major issue.

Thus, if the old adage "as goes Maine" should prove true on its last go - round, the Republicans could lose seven or eight Senate seats of their present total of 46, giving the Democrats decisive control of that chamber, in place of the present narrow margin of four.

Predictions of a sweeping congressional victory for Democrats in Congress made several weeks ago, have recently been discounted by other forecasters, who were convinced the evident improvement in business conditions in some sections of the nation presaged a more encouraging Republican outlook.

That is no longer the prospect. Unless the U. S. should become involved in a Far East war, with the rallying cry to support the administration — which is now believed unlikely — the Republicans face the threat of a Democratic landslide.

DR. CRANE SAYS

Trial Marriage Poor Business

Doris is wavering. Her boy friend wants her to enter into a "trial marriage" arrangement. Do you know what trial marriage involves? Better face the facts and get hep to reality. Morality is a matter of cold logic, so don't let sexual gluttony parade as marriage. It takes brains to make a REAL marriage.

Case Z - 317: Doris D., aged 20, is a very efficient office secretary.

"Dr. Crane, I am in love with a man named Don," she began, "but he is the sole support of an invalided mother.

"So he feels we cannot go ahead and get married. Instead, he now suggests we have a trial marriage and keep it secret.

"Then, if we are happy together, we can really be married at a later date.

"I have been taught to view such a thing as very wrong, but my sweetheart is very persuasive so I am almost ready to consent to his plan. What do you think of our chances of happiness?"

Esau A La 1958

If Doris should follow Don's plan, she'd be an excellent example of a 1958 model of ancient Esau, who sold his birthright for a mess of pottage.

Trial marriage is much like the obsolete method in business of placing merchandise in a store "on consignment".

That means the store keeper is under no obligation to push the new goods for he can send it back at no cost. So he doesn't try to make it a successful item.

Salesmen learned long ago that "consignment" is thus a very poor business arrangement.

And trial marriage likewise means both parties need not make any serious effort to produce a permanent success of their union.

One or the other can drop out whenever the going gets tough. So neither may make a sincere effort to sacrifice and forgive and forget for the aim of establishing a happy home.

Sexual Infatuation

Trial marriage is usually suggested by a person who may feel sexual infatuation but not true love.

There is a whale of a difference! In true love, you are unselfish so your main concern is the welfare and happiness of your sweetheart.

But when you are infatuated, you are selfishly concerned with your own desires. You are thinking primarily of SELF.

Trial marriage definitely does NOT benefit the girl. She makes the sacrifices and is likely to be left without a wedding ring, though she may then be pregnant and unable to earn a living for herself.

Trial marriage is a convenience for the man in the case so he can have a continuous affair for several weeks or months, without being liable for the ill effects of his orgy.

A lot of shortsighted teen-agers are deluded, however, by this trial marriage doctrine, especially in Europe.

For example, Ernie Hill, brilliant foreign correspondent for the Chicago Daily News, investigated the British situation earlier this year and reported that about one - third of all English babies are now conceived out of wedlock.

What Is Right?

And don't make the mistake of thinking that whenever a majority do a thing, that majority vote makes it right.

Morality is based on logic; not on the results of a popular poll. Often the majority are 100 per cent vote on the other side of the issue.

Trial marriage thus debases personality; handicaps babies born out of wedlock, and panders to selfish sexual infatuation instead of true love.

Send for my 200 - point "Tests for Husbands & Wives," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non - profit). Use them to pick wisely so you can have a REAL marriage.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Drinking Caused By Depression

A teen - aged girl returned from school at 4 p.m. and found her mother on the living room floor. She had passed out from drinking too much. The woman was taken to the hospital and later a psychiatrist was consulted. He reported this woman's story in the Kentucky state medical journal.

The patient, a middle - aged mother of four, had been happily married for 25 years. She had been hardworking, conscientious, and well liked. The onset of her current problem went back a year when she became depressed, began to sleep poorly, lost her appetite, and just did not feel well.

Tranquilizers and vitamins were of no value, and she began to drink. At first her husband thought he smelled liquor on her breath when he came home from work; in time, there was no doubt about it. Then she started drinking right after dinner— "to make me sleep." Finally, she consumed so much during the day she was intoxicated by the time her husband came home and he had to put her to bed and prepare dinner for himself and the children.

The psychiatrist recognized that this woman was suffering from an abnormal depression on the basis of insomnia, self-depreciation, loss of appetite, and early morning awakening. Alcohol was used to escape reality and to find relief from her confusion.

Her insanity responded dramatically to electric shock treatments and she was discharged as well within three and one-half weeks. This woman was her old self again, gained weight, ate well, and is now dependable. Unlike the true alcoholic, she has no desire to imbibe and is able to attend cocktail parties without losing control.

In this case, alcoholism was the presenting symptom of depression. She was mentally ill and would not have improved with the usual treatment for alcoholism. The response to electrotherapy was excellent because the cause of her condition had been recognized.

DRAINAGE TUBE

W. T. writes: What is the purpose of leaving a tube in place after a gall bladder operation?

REPLY

This is done after gall bladder removal when the surgeon finds that some of the stones have escaped into the duct leading from the liver to the intestine. An incision is made into this passage-way and a tube is inserted to prevent bile from leaking into the intestine during the healing process.

BRAIN ARTERIES

Mrs F. writes: Why does hardening of the arteries of the brain cause loss of memory? This is what the doctor blames for mother's blank spells.

REPLY

Because circulation to the memory centers of the brain is affected and the tissues are deteriorating. In some instances, memory is not affected but the oldster loses interest.

BIG SPLEEN

D. W. writes: How does an enlarged spleen affect the system?

REPLY

It has no effect but the condition occurs in several diseases. A more pertinent question is — What is the causative disease doing to the body? Malaria, for example, enlarges the spleen but symptoms stem from the infection and not from the spleen.

PARROT FEVER

W. L. writes: What is the treatment of the disease caused by pigeons and parakeets?

Daily Devotion

Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and strife; and some also of good will. — Philippians 1:15.

There are probably about as many interpretations of the Bible as there are individuals. In the verse above, Paul points out that some of his contemporaries were preaching a Christ of contention, partly as a way of discrediting Paul, while others, preached a Christ of love. But to his followers Paul wrote from prison, "I would ye should understand, brethren, that the things which have happened unto me have fallen out rather unto the futherance of the Gospel."

O God, help us to turn the trials and difficulties of this life into stepping stones to faith and loyalty as did Paul. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

Texas' Split Party

The state of Texas presents a first-class demonstration that the cleavage inside this country's two principal parties—Democrat and Republican—is greater than the difference between those two parties.

In the United States it is difficult to see much difference between the Republican and Democratic parties but each of those parties is split into two divisions—conservative and radical.

In Texas this cleavage in the Democratic party is sharp and well-defined and has been going on for many years. Every time a state convention is held there is a big fight over control and the issue is always conservatism vs. radicalism.

Gov. Price Daniel and Sen. Ralph Yarborough head the respective factions under the present setup, although the leadership has changed from time to time throughout the many years that the party split has existed. Daniel defeated Yarborough in the last race for governor but a senate vacancy shortly after that race gave Yarborough an opportunity to make his fifth political race and, for the first time, he won.

At the convention in Texas, Price united the conservative and moderate forces to trounce Yarborough's radicals and gain control.

Price's victory just about tells the story on how closely Texas is divided. The forces are so nearly equal that the power of the governor is enough to give him control.

Texas is perhaps the only state in which the conservative vs. radical issue is so clearly defined. The whole United States, however, is more clearly divided along these lines than any other and this issue could be the best basis for separate parties. Then the difference between the two parties would be clearly understood.

Under the present setup one segment of the Republican party stands for the same thing that one segment of the Democratic party approves. The other portion of the Republican party goes along with the other part of the Democratic party on things it approves.

Dying Morse Code

The United States government is clinging doggedly to a mode of communication which is said to be destined soon to become as dead as a dodo.

A news dispatch out of Washington says:

"A once-vital language that knitted the world together is dying. Morse code, now the specialty of a retiring group of older men, seems destined eventually to have as few living users as Sanskrit" (an ancient Aryan language of the Hindus of India.)

"Teleprinters, facsimile circuits and automatic translators that require no rarer skill than typing are talking over. Today's beginning telegrapher doesn't need to know Morse at all.

"One by one the railroads are abandoning the code that revolutionized traffic safety and scheduling. On the international airways some Morse is still heard but much of that is both coded and transmitted by machine.

"Even the Boy Scouts of America, long Morse devotees, have lessened the requirement for their amateur radio merit badge. Scout officials had considered dropping it completely but changed their minds after appeals from the armed services. Soldiers have saved their lives by rudimentary knowledge of the code."

How many motion pictures made in recent years show soldiers communicating by Morse code? All radio communication is shown being made directly by word of mouth.

Not many years after wireless telegraphy was invented, when Morse code was the only known means of communicating in this manner, the federal government began licensing "ham" radio operators who could build their own sets and who could pass Morse code tests. Close to a half century later the same rules, as far as Morse code is concerned, are still in effect. Virtually the same rules also apply to one's ability to build his own set. An amateur radio operator may use a set he has purchased but he must know how to build one before he can get a license.

In other words, with Morse code practically ready to pass out of existence and with commercial manufacture of broadcasting sets cheaper, safer and more practical, the two chief requirements of an amateur are that he know the code and that he be able to build a set.

It has been argued that anyone who can build a set is more capable of operating one, yet we have plenty of auto drivers who don't know how to build an auto or even how to repair one.

About the only argument in favor of the Morse code requirement for obtaining an amateur radio operator's license is that if the code requirement were to be abandoned there would be too many amateur operators. As an additional deterrent against obtaining an amateur's license, it would be about as sensible to require that all such licensees be able to pass tests in Greek and Sanskrit.

If Morse code is about to pass into the dodo class as far as practical use is concerned, why still require it in obtaining an amateur radio operator's license?

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

'Indirect Aggression' Of Dulles Hit By Communists

The Communists are attacking Secretary of State John Foster Dulles for using what they c'' a is a new term in international relations, namely, "indirect aggression." Actually indirect aggression may be as potent or more potent than direct participation because while more subtle, it has, in such an instance as Iraq, proved to be totally effective. Indirect aggression has been a competent weapon of Soviet operations since about 1920 when Communist parties were organized in every country both as a fifth column and an espionage corps.

General James M. Gavin refers to this, from a military standpoint, in his book, "War and Peace in the Space Age," one of the most significant documents published in recent years:

"... The pattern that we have recently seen of the Communists supplying arms to the Algerian Nationalists will be repeated in other areas. Arms support, followed by economic, technical, and political penetration, is the harbinger of armed intervention—if armed intervention proves really necessary. Regardless of the means required, the goal will be sought, always with due care to avoid giving us an issue worthy of a Washington-Moscow missile exchange."

Whereas many Americans who deal with this problem are looking for the big war, Soviet Russia intercedes in small affairs, keeping the entire world in turmoil all the time. It is possible, if this strategy is successful, for Soviet Russia to win control of people and territory without ever fighting a big war. The United States, and for that matter, no Western country is in a position to engage in indirect intervention, because we have never been able to organize a pro-Western party. Perhaps the closest to it might have been those Christian elements in Poland or Lebanon which decline to accept Communist control of their souls. But even such groups have not been mobilized for political resistance.

There are American groups in the United States who believe that the resistance to Soviet Russia among the satellites is inevitable and that all that is required is for the United States to spend a lot of money and do a lot of propaganda and that the people would rise against the Kremlin and die for a good cause. They also believe—some of them—that when such an event happens, the United States will hop in and help the insurgents.

In 1936, it was one of two states carried by Alf Landon, the Republican nominee. Only Vermont surpasses this record, having always gone for the GOP nominee. But Maine is changing, as the once majority party was reminded this week, when it was able to salvage but one congressman in the election of Governor, Senator and three House members.

The change is attributed, by those with knowledge of Maine politics, to growing industrialization, resulting in an increasing organized labor vote, and a realization that with Democrats in control of Congress, a state which is only 34th in population has little to gain by continuing its Republican allegiance.

Its reputation as a political barometer might be enhanced if it continued to vote for state and congressional candidates in September. Since the New Deal took over in 1932, Maine has proved an accurate barometer on the presidential race in the following November in only two out of seven elections, regaining its reputation for prescience only in the first Eisenhower election in 1952.

These political and historical footnotes merely emphasize whatever importance Maine's last offbeat election may have. Political observers with Republican leanings are inclined to call attention to local circumstances affecting the Maine result which would not affect the results of the November elections in other states. But the Maine outcome does afford a basis for predictions that recent Republican hopes of an improvement in their chances will not be verified.

Since the two most industrialized districts in Maine, with strong labor votes, went Democratic, partly because of extensive unemployment, it may be speculated that unemployment will have an important effect in other states too. Probably it will have more impact on senatorial than congressional races, for many districts where employment has been extensive are already represented by Democrats, and the national tendency is to blame the party in power for the business recession.

For example, Republican Senators William A. Purtell (Conn.), Charles E. Potter, (Mich.), Arthur V. Watkins (Utha) and Barry Goldwater (Arizona) are among the GOP senators seeking election who must combat the unemployment issue, and the states of New York, Pennsulvania, Indiana, and New Jersey where new Republican candidates are taking over to succeed retiring solons are others in which the recession will be stressed by Democratic candidates as a major issue.

Thus, if the old adage "as goes Maine" should prove true on its last go - round, the Republicans could lose seven or eight Senate seats of their present total of 46, giving the Democrats decisive control of that chamber, in place of the present narrow margin of four.

Predictions of a sweeping congressional victory for Democrats in Congress made several weeks ago, have recently been discounted by other forecasters, who were convinced the evident improvement in business conditions in some sections of the nation presaged a more encouraging Republican outlook.

That is no longer the prospect. Unless the U. S. should become involved in a Far East war, with the rallying cry to support the administration — which is now believed unlikely — the Republicans face the threat of a Democratic landslide.

DR. CRANE SAYS

Trial Marriage Poor Business

Doris is wavering. Her boy friend wants her to enter into a "trial marriage" arrangement. Do you know what trial marriage involves? Better face the facts and get hep to reality. Morality is a matter of cold logic, so don't let sexual gluttony parade as marriage. It takes brains to make a REAL marriage.

Case Z - 317: Doris D., aged 20, is a very efficient office secretary.

"Dr. Crane, I am in love with a man named Don," she began, "but he is the sole support of an invalided mother.

"So he feels we cannot go ahead and get married. Instead, he now suggests we have a trial marriage and keep it secret.

"Then, if we are happy together, we can really be married at a later date.

"I have been taught to view such a thing as very wrong, but my sweetheart is very persuasive so I am almost ready to consent to his plan. What do you think of our chances of happiness?"

Esau A La 1958

If Doris should follow Don's plan, she'd be an excellent example of a 1958 model of ancient Esau, who sold his birthright for a mess of pottage.

Trial marriage is much like the obsolete method in business of placing merchandise in a store "on consignment".

That means the store keeper is under no obligation to push the new goods for he can send it back at no cost. So he doesn't try to make it a successful item.

Salesmen learned long ago that "consignment" is thus a very poor business arrangement.

And trial marriage likewise means both parties need not make any serious effort to produce a permanent success of their union.

One or the other can drop out whenever the going gets tough. So neither may make a sincere effort to sacrifice and forgive and forget for the aim of establishing a happy home.

Sexual Infatuation

Trial marriage is usually suggested by a person who may feel sexual infatuation but not true love.

There is a whale of a difference! In true love, you are unselfish so your main concern is the welfare and happiness of your sweetheart.

But when you are infatuated, you are selfishly concerned with your own desires. You are thinking primarily of SELF.

Trial marriage definitely does NOT benefit the girl. She makes the sacrifices and is likely to be left without a wedding ring, though she may then be pregnant and unable to earn a living for herself.

Trial marriage is a convenience for the man in the case so he can have a continuous affair for several weeks or months, without being liable for the ill effects of his orgy.

A lot of shortsighted teen-agers are deluded, however, by this trial marriage doctrine, especially in Europe.

For example, Ernie Hill, brilliant foreign correspondent for the Chicago Daily News, investigated the British situation earlier this year and reported that about one - third of all English babies are now conceived out of wedlock.

What Is Right?

And don't make the mistake of thinking that whenever a majority do a thing, that majority vote makes it right.

Morality is based on logic; not on the results of a popular poll. Often the majority are 100 per cent vote on the other side of the issue.

Trial marriage thus debases personality; handicaps babies born out of wedlock, and panders to selfish sexual infatuation instead of true love.

Send for my 200 - point "Tests for Husbands & Wives," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non - profit). Use them to pick wisely so you can have a REAL marriage.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

DR. T.R. VAN DELLEN

Drinking Caused By Depression

A teen - aged girl returned from school at 4 p.m. and found her mother on the living room floor. She had passed out from drinking too much. The woman was taken to the hospital and later a psychiatrist was consulted. He reported this woman's story in the Kentucky state medical journal.

The patient, a middle - aged mother of four, had been happily married for 25 years. She had been hardworking, conscientious, and well liked. The onset of her current problem went back a year when she became depressed, began to sleep poorly, lost her appetite, and just did not feel well.

Tranquilizers and vitamins were of no value, and she began to drink. At first her husband thought he smelled liquor on her breath when he came home from work; in time, there was no doubt about it. Then she started drinking right after dinner— "to make me sleep." Finally, she consumed so much during the day she was intoxicated by the time her husband came home and he had to put her to bed and prepare dinner for himself and the children.

The psychiatrist recognized that this woman was suffering from an abnormal depression on the basis of insomnia, self-depreciation, loss of appetite, and early morning awakening. Alcohol was used to escape reality and to find relief from her confusion.

Her insanity responded dramatically to electric shock treatments and she was discharged as well within three and one-half weeks. This woman was her old self again, gained weight, ate well, and is now dependable. Unlike the true alcoholic, she has no desire to imbibe and is able to attend cocktail parties without losing control.

In this case, alcoholism was the presenting symptom of depression. She was mentally ill and would not have improved with the usual treatment for alcoholism. The response to electrotherapy was excellent because the cause of her condition had been recognized.

DRAINAGE TUBE

W. T. writes: What is the purpose of leaving a tube in place after a gall bladder operation?

REPLY

This is done after gall bladder removal when the surgeon finds that some of the stones have escaped into the duct leading from the liver to the intestine. An incision is made into this passage-way and a tube is inserted to prevent bile from leaking into the intestine during the healing process.

BRAIN ARTERIES

Mrs. F. writes: Why does hardening of the arteries of the brain cause loss of memory? This is what the doctor blames for mother's blank spells.

REPLY

Because circulation to the memory centers of the brain is affected and the tissues are deteriorating. In some instances, memory is not affected but the oldster loses interest.

BIG SPLEEN

D. W. writes: How does an enlarged spleen affect the system?

REPLY

It has no effect but the condition occurs in several diseases. A more pertinent question is — What is the causative disease doing to the body? Malaria, for example, enlarges the spleen but symptoms stem from the infection and not from the spleen.

PARROT FEVER

W. L. writes: What is the treatment of the disease caused by pigeons and parakeets?

Daily Devotion

Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and strife; and some also of good will. — Philippians 1:15.

There are probably about as many interpretations of the Bible as there are individuals. In the verse above, Paul points out that some of his contemporaries were preaching a Christ of contention, partly as a way of discrediting Paul, while others, preached a Christ of love. But to his followers Paul wrote from prison, "I would ye should understand, brethren, that the things which have happened unto me have fallen out rather unto the futherance of the Gospel."

O God, help us to turn the trials and difficulties of this life into stepping stones to faith and loyalty as did Paul. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

It Is Not Home

I LIKE the mountains and the sea ... The house where I reside ... The flowers in the garden and ... The neighbors at my side ... But this is not the home I know ... That haunts my lonely mind ... And these are not the faces of ... The friends I left behind ... Each time I close my eyes I see ... Familiar paths and trees ... And gaze through all the windows of ... My happy memories ... I know I should not linger in ... My sadness and regret ... I know I ought to look ahead ... With faith and hope—and yet ... My ears keep ringing with the sound ... Of every fond good-by ... I cannot change the heart in me ... No matter how I try.

being told they could register.

Their presence and registration caused little stir among the hundreds who turned out. Few policemen were present and the registration proceeded smoothly.

Dean Homer Hitt of the college said 84 Negro applications had been received. He added the college would accept "all qualified students, regardless of race" to comply with the court order.

Only one Negro registered as an LSU undergraduate before the action Tuesday. He was A. P. Tureaud Jr., son of the legal counsel for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People here. He dropped out of the university several weeks later when the university appealed and went to another college.

that the general power and water systems have been revamped and "operated on a business-like basis."

Under the provisions of law, the commission makes a monthly payment to the city's general fund. Most of the city's revenues comes from the power and water systems.

The report said the commission collected $3,162,704.81 off the power and water systems during its first year of operation. Net operating revenues came to $1,884,388-.78.

The report was made by the CPA firm of Cox, Frazer and Webb of Monroe.

Petition Served To Governor For Law Judgement

anything about reopening Central or the other schools in the interim between Monday and October 7 as private, segregated schools.

He said he ordered the schools closed to avoid the impending violence which would occur and to preserve the peace of the community," and futher, because "under conditions that would prevail a general, suitable and efficient educational system cannot be maintained."

"For evidence concerning disorder and violence and the maintenance of a suitable educational system, I refer you to the testimony of the school personnel and statements of school board members in Federal Court in Little Rock, St. Louis, and before the Supreme Court in Washington, D. C.," he said.

The governor's action and the demand for a court test of the closing law's constitutionality further muddled the integration crisis in Little Rock.

There was no immediate comment from the Department of Justice team which arrived in Little Rock Thursday to handle the legal details of the integration order.

The Justice Department, however, went ahead with its plans as though nothing had happened.

One hundred and thirty seven U. S. deputy marshals were sworn in late Friday in the Federal Building to carry out the Supreme Court's orders.

The Justice Department also apparently intended to go into court Monday.

U. S. District Judge John E. Miller of the Western Arkansas District, who was assigned to the Eastern District (Little Rock) to handle emergency legal matters, sent word that he will arrive Monday.

He had said earlier that he was not going to Little Rock "merely to twiddle my thumbs" and had plenty to occupy him in his own district until something came up in Little Rock.

"I haven't seen a copy of the governor's proclamation," Beal Kidd, resident U. S. Marshal in Little Rock said. "I can't say now whether it changes our plans."

Jubilant Negroes had planned to integrate another high school in Little Rock.

Before Faubus signed the proclamation closing the schools, he had to sign into law a bill authorizing him to close them. The bill was passed two weeks ago by an emergency session of the Legislature.

Business, Civic, Labor Leaders On Monroe Tour

Inspecting the utilities commission and street improvement programs in Monroe yesterday, some 75 business, civic and labor leaders were all in agreement that the programs were giving the best possible results for funds expended.

The group toured the power plant on Park Ave., the water pumping plant on Bayou DeSiard and checked the sanitation and street departments and the electric and water warehouse.

Traveling in three city buses, the group also drove over part of the large area which has received sewerage in the last two years, including the area around South Ninth street and Winnsboro road and immediately adjacent.

Thomas Tudor Tucker, who was Secretary of the U. S. treasury from 1801 to 1823, was born in Bermuda.

being told they could register.

Their presence and registration caused little stir among the hundreds who turned out. Few policemen were present and the registration proceeded smoothly.

Dean Homer Hitt of the college said 84 Negro applications had been received. He added the college would accept "all qualified students, regardless of race" to comply with the court order.

Only one Negro registered as an LSU undergraduate before the action Tuesday. He was A. P. Tureaud Jr., son of the legal counsel for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People here. He dropped out of the university several weeks later when the university appealed and went to another college.

that the general power and water systems have been revamped and "operated on a business-like basis."

Under the provisions of law, the commission makes a monthly payment to the city's general fund. Most of the city's revenues comes from the power and water systems.

The report said the commission collected $3,162,704.81 off the power and water systems during its first year of operation. Net operating revenues came to $1,884,388-.78.

The report was made by the CPA firm of Cox, Frazer and Webb of Monroe.

Petition Served To Governor For Law Judgement

anything about reopening Central or the other schools in the interim between Monday and October 7 as private, segregated schools.

He said he ordered the schools closed to avoid the impending violence which would occur and to preserve the peace of the community," and futher, because "under conditions that would prevail a general, suitable and efficient educational system cannot be maintained."

"For evidence concerning disorder and violence and the maintenance of a suitable educational system, I refer you to the testimony of the school personnel and statements of school board members in Federal Court in Little Rock, St. Louis, and before the Supreme Court in Washington, D. C.," he said.

The governor's action and the demand for a court test of the closing law's constitutionality further muddled the integration crisis in Little Rock.

There was no immediate comment from the Department of Justice team which arrived in Little Rock Thursday to handle the legal details of the integration order.

The Justice Department, however, went ahead with its plans as though nothing had happened.

One hundred and thirty seven U. S. deputy marshals were sworn in late Friday in the Federal Building to carry out the Supreme Court's orders.

The Justice Department also apparently intended to go into court Monday.

U. S. District Judge John E. Miller of the Western Arkansas District, who was assigned to the Eastern District (Little Rock) to handle emergency legal matters, sent word that he will arrive Monday.

He had said earlier that he was not going to Little Rock "merely to twiddle my thumbs" and had plenty to occupy him in his own district until something came up in Little Rock.

"I haven't seen a copy of the governor's proclamation," Beal Kidd, resident U. S. Marshal in Little Rock said. "I can't say now whether it changes our plans."

Jubilant Negroes had planned to integrate another high school in Little Rock.

Before Faubus signed the proclamation closing the schools, he had to sign into law a bill authorizing him to close them. The bill was passed two weeks ago by an emergency session of the Legislature.

Business, Civic, Labor Leaders On Monroe Tour

Inspecting the utilities commission and street improvement programs in Monroe yesterday, some 75 business, civic and labor leaders were all in agreement that the programs were giving the best possible results for funds expended.

The group toured the power plant on Park Ave., the water pumping plant on Bayou DeSiard and checked the sanitation and street departments and the electric and water warehouse.

Traveling in three city buses, the group also drove over part of the large area which has received sewerage in the last two years, including the area around South Ninth street and Winnsboro road and immediately adjacent.

Thomas Tudor Tucker, who was Secretary of the U. S. treasury from 1801 to 1823, was born in Bermuda.

SECOND SHUTOUT

Jonesboro - Hodge Tumbles Ouachita Easily, 20 To 0

Playing great ball-control football, Jonesboro - Hodge ground out 264 yards rushing 201 in the first half, and rolled over Ouachita, 20-0, for their second straight shutout of the season here last night.

The visiting Tigers 28-0 winners over Jena last week won it with a great exhibition in the first half, permitting Ouachita only 13 offensive plays, a mere four in the second period, while scoring twice.

STATISTICS	Ouachita	Jonesboro
First downs	8	19
Yards rushing	123	264
Yards passing	0	62
Passes	8-0	4-2
Passes int. by	0	1
Fumbles lost	2	1
Punting	3-35	1-10
Penalties	2-10	5-55

The host Lions could gain only 22 yards in the first half but came through with 101 in the second, all on the ground. The usually accurate Rex Carter threw eight times without a hit for the Lions, 13-7, winners over Homer last Friday.

Ronnie Carson ended a 59-yard march in the first quarter by going three yards for the initial Tiger touchdown and John Garrett climaxed an 85-yard push for the second TD in the second period. Quarterback Garrett went 2 yards around right end for the final score of the night in the fourth period, climaxing a 53-yard drive. Morris Douglas ran the first PAT and Carson ran for the second. Donnie Brunson failed on a running try for the PAT after the third touchdown.

Ernie Spurlock and Ronnie Marrus sparked a J-H defense that was rock-tough in the first half. Harold Moore starred in the Ouachita line and, with the Tigers getting into the secondary often, Rex Carter and Bobby Hendrix also turned in some good defensive work.

All four of Jonesboro's starting backs, Garrett, Brunson, Carson and Douglas, and a hard-running sub, Bobby Jones, turned in outstanding runs and Garrett hit on two of four passes for 62 yards.

J-H took the opening kickoff and went to the 21 before Ouachita held. After Woody Mahoney went 10 yards for the lone Ouachita first down of the half, the visitors took over again after returning a Carter punt to their 41. With Carson getting off a 14-yard jaunt and Garrett throwing to Brunson for 30, the Tigers went to the three where Carson took it over and Douglas added the PAT to make it 7-0.

Starting on the 15 to begin second quarter after taking another punt, the Tigers pushed 85-yards, making it the hard way with their longest gain in the march being a 12-yard trip by Jones. Garrett sneaked over from the one and Carson ran for the PAT and it was 14-0 at the half although they were on the 22 when it ended, with Jones' 35-yard run eating up most of the yards.

The pace slowed in the third period but Ouachita made its best showing of the game with a march to the J-H 32 before running out of gas.

A fumble recovery by Roy Young on the Jonesboro 47 set up the final J-H touchdown. A 32-yard Garrett - to - Douglas pass gained 32 of the yards and Douglas dropped a throw in the end zone on the next play. With the ball on the 12, two rushes by Brunson and one by Jones put it on the 2 from where Garrett circled right for the TD. Brunson's run was short for the PAT and it ended 20-0.

The winners had a big edge in the statistics with 19 first downs, 14 in the first half to Ouachita's one, to eight for the losers. Rushing and passing, Jonesboro-Hodge had 346 yards to 123 for Ouachita.

HADDAD RUNS 100

Neville Tramples Tornado, 32 To 12

HAYNESVILLE, La. (Special) —Dooley Haddad blasted the lid right off the ball game in the first 15 seconds when he took Haynesville's opening kickoff on his goalline and ran 100 yards for a Neville touchdown and the invading Tigers from Monroe went on to a 32-12 victory over the Golden Tornado in their district double-A football opener here last night.

Haynesville came back to score when Larry Drew Thomas romped over from the nine after the Tors had downed a punt on the Neville 37. A 25-yard pass set up the touchdown. But try for the point failed and the Tigers held their 7-6 lead since Joe Cage had converted behind the Haddad tally.

Neville left no doubt of the outcome in the next few minutes, however, romping for two more touchdowns in the second quarter, one on an 11-yard dash by Gene Howard that capped a 40-yard drive sparked by Devone Payne and Howard.

The Tigers hammered right back for another after a Haynesville punt rolled dead on the Neville 14. On the first play from scrimmage after the kick, Cage broke away on an 83-yard scamper that gave Neville a 20-6 lead at the half.

An alert Billy Cobb pounced on a Haynesville fumble to spike a Tornado march on the Neville 21. After a couple of one-yard carries by Cage, Howard broke away for 72 yards to paydirt.

Haynesville finally got back into the scoring act early in the last quarter as Knox and Appling drove from their own 39 to the Neville five from where Jerry "Red" Hines pounded over to score.

Cage ran from the eight for Neville's final TD after Howard and Payne had backed him in a march from their own 43.

Cage added one conversion behind Cobb's fumble recovery TD setup in addition to the tally behind the opening score.

Cage also carried the ball nine times for 126 yards, averaging 14 yards per carry. Howard rushed for 114 and Payne rushed for 54.

ARCARO GROUNDED

Rounder Aiming For Big Bankroll

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Jockey Eddie Arcaro, suffering an infected leg, was forced Friday to cancel his riding assignment on favored Round Table in Saturday's $100,000 United Nations Handicap.

The substitute rider was not immediately named for the 4-5 favorite, who will carry top weight of 130 pounds in the 1 3-16 mile race over a turf course. There are 11 rivals.

Arcaro was forced to cancel all his mounts Friday at Belmont Park. He was reported running a fever and under the care of a doctor.

Nothing less than a victory would push Round Table to the head of the class in the money world. First place would increase his lifetime earnings to $1,308,114, surpassing Nashua's $1,288,565.

Willie Shoemaker who has ridden Round Table in 21 of his 49 starts will switch to Adele L. Rand's Clem, winner over Round Table by 3¼ lengths in the Washington Park Handicap. Clem is lightweight of the field at 113 pounds. At Chicago, Clem had a 21-pound advantage over Round Table.

Round Table, unbeaten on the grass with eight straight, tuned up with an easy victory Monday in a 1 1-16-mile "prep" over an allowance field that included three UN rivals. He has carried 130 pounds successfully on seven occasions this year.

Clem finished second behind Round Table on two occasions while winning once. He was beaten a whisker by Bold Ruler in the Suburban and was a closeup third to Gallant Man in the Metropolitan.

With a forecast of cool, clear weather, a crowd of 25,000 is expected. The race will be televised by CBS. Post time is 2:51 p.m., CST.

Sanford Stud Farm's Rafty will carry 119 pounds and Mrs. S. Helene Sadacca's A Dragon Killer has 116 pounds.

Green Dunes Farm's Combustion II, L. Rice's Hoop Band, Tower Hill Farm's Langton Breeze, Fairlawn Farm's Liberty Sun and Mrs. Herbert Herff's Tudor Era will tote 115 pounds each. Stephen A. Calder's Lucido, George Gardiner's St. Vincent and Joe W. Brown's Tenacious are in at 114 pounds.

Injury Halts Musial Play

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Ailing Stan Musial, bidding for his eighth National League batting championship, will be out of action for an indefinite period, St. Louis Cardinal officials disclosed Friday night.

"If I told you he could play in two or three days, I'd be lying," said Bob Bauman, the club's trainer. "His injury keeps him from swinging properly and the other night his leg was all puffed up."

The 37-year-old first baseman, batting .338, has been in and out of the line-up for the past nine days with muscle ailments in his left leg. In St. Louis Tuesday night Musial aggravated a pulled muscle.

Cubs Master Redlegs With 11-Hit Spree

CINCINNATI (AP)—Walt Moryn and Dale Long each banged a home run Friday night helping Chicago's Cubs spray 11 hits around Crosley Field in a 7-5 victory over Cincinnati's Redlegs. The loss weakened the Reds' hold on the National League's No. 4 spot.

Bill Henry, last of three Cub hurlers to try their stuff, had little trouble quelling the Redlegs in the last three innings.

It was the fourth straight loss for the Redlegs, who had earlier climbed from last place into the first division under temporary manager Jimmy Dykes.

Long's sixth inning homer and Moryn's big blast in the eighth—his 25th this season—provided the Cub edge.

Waters Raps 2 Mississippi Grid Machines

HAMMOND, La. (AP) — Commissioner T. H. Waters of the Louisiana High School Athletic Assn. yesterday accused two Mississippi high schools—Natchez and St. Stanislaus—of using ineligible players and urged member schools not to schedule them.

The two Mississippi schools, he said, are using boys "that have become ineligible in Louisiana" because they are over-age, completed eight semesters in high schools or for other various reasons.

He asked member schools "not to renew contracts with out-of-state schools known to be using ineligible Louisiana boys." Natchez and St. Stanislaus, located in Bay St. Louis, were the only such schools he identified.

An association committee, he said, felt it is unfair to Louisiana schools to have to compete against such schools and ruled that any school who has scheduled a game using such boys may cancel its contract without penalty.

Natchez, a member of Mississippi's Big Eight Conference, rarely meets Louisiana teams, but St. Stanislaus has five Louisiana teams on its schedule this year. St. Stanislaus met Catholic High at Baton Rouge last night.

Two Sharing Ladies' Golf Lead At 72

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Mrs. Betty Mims Danoff of Dallas, Tex., and Fay Crocker of Uruguay fired two-under-par 72s Friday to take the opening round lead in the $5,000 Jackson Ladies Open Golf Tournament.

Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., and Mickey Wright of Bonita, Calif., both came in one stroke behind with 73s.

Play was hampered by a light rain that fell during most of the play, although the sun broke through just as the last pros were posting their scores. The Colonial Country Club course played from two to four strokes longer as the lush grass cut down the roll and the soft ground absorbed much of the ball's team when it hit.

Mrs. Danoff, mother of three and a part-time member of the touring group, had a 36-36, cutting two strokes off the revised ladies par of 38-36. She was among the earlier finishers and her score stood up until late afternoon when Miss Crocker turned in a 35-37.

Mrs. Danoff used 25 putts on her round, while Miss Crocker had 28 after hitting 12 of 18 greens.

The second round of the 54-hole event over a 6,700-yard course will be played Saturday, with the final round Sunday.

Trailing the leaders with 74s were Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., Kathy Cornelius of Lakeland, Fla., Marlene Bauer Hagge of Pittsburgh, Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., and defending champion Betty Godd of Louisville, Ky., and San Antonio.

Bracketed at 75 were Gloria Fecht of Pine Needles, N.C., Ruth Jessen of Seattle, Joyce Ziske of Waterford, Wis., Jackie Pung of San Francisco, and Beverly Hanson of Indio, Calif.

Leading the amateurs were Sandra Haynie of Austin, Tex., with a 78 and Mary Mills of Gulfport with 79.

ALMOST UPSET, 20-14

Central Defeats Underdog Rebels

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — (Special) — Little Rock's Central High School, in the national spotlight of the segregation issue, was almost "taken" by the Rebels of West Monroe (La.) High School here last night in a football thriller, but Central fought from behind in the last quarter to beat back the invaders, 20-14.

Moral victories are scarce around here, but West Monroe certainly won one last night as Arkansas's champions appeared on the verge of an upset.

Instead, Central scored two late touchdowns to overcome a 14-7 Rebel lead and notch their 34th consecutive victory.

Jerry Stovall, a tremendous star in defeat, scored both Rebel touchdowns, one on a 5-yard interception return. The ace halfback set up the first touchdown with a 68-yard jaunt and scored it on a two-yard trip around left end. He kicked both extra points.

A fumble recovery on the Rebel 46 set up the first Little Rock touchdown. Doyne Davis ran 30 yards to set up the score and Fallon Davis passed 13 yards to Charles Patterson for the touchdown. Steve Hathcote kicked the PAT and Little Rock led, 7-0.

The Rebels went 89 yards to tie up in the first quarter with Stovall's 68-yard jaunt setting it up. Stovall went to the 7 and an offside penalty put the ball on the two from where Jerry went over and kicked the PAT to tie it up, 7-7, and it was that way as the quarter ended.

The underdog Rebels went to the Little Rock seven before a penalty threw them back. Little Rock held and it was still tied at the half.

Stovall's 65-yard run with the interception put West Monroe ahead in the third, 14-7. Central came back to deadlock it in the fourth quarter with Doyne Davis capping an 80-yard march with a 15 yard trip over tackle for the touchdown. Hathcote kicked the PAT and it was 14-14.

Central won it late in the fourth when they took over on the Rebel 22 after a punt return. Hathcote went 15 yards to set it up and went over from the one for the touchdown to make it 20-14. West couldn't go in the remaining 2½ minutes and Little Rock took over and ran out the clock to preserve the win.

U.S. AMATEUR GOLF

Aaron Meets Coe In National Final

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Charlie Coe, a stone-faced and determined Oklahoman and Tommy Aaron, a husky ex-quarterback, traveled contrasting routes into the finals of the National Amateur Golf Championship Friday.

They will meet Saturday on the hilly Lake Course of the Olympic Country Club in the 36-hole final for the same title Coe won in 1949 and which has eluded him ever since.

Coe, 34 years old and tired physically and mentally after an arduous week of golf, outlasted a virtually unknown Cincinnati player, Roger McManus, to win 3 and 2. Aaron, 21 and fresh as a breeze, handed a crushing 10 and 9 beating to even younger Dick Foote of Santa Ana, Calif.

Aaron's victory was the most decisive in this tournament since Billy Maxwell beat J. C. Benson by the same margin on his way to winning the 1951 championship. Coe won by an even bigger margin, 11 and 10, over Rufus King in the 1949 final.

Since that victory, Coe has been rated as one of America's top amateur golfers. Aaron's reputation has been made principally in college competition, although he won the Southeastern Amateur and Memphis Colonial Invitation this year.

Coe, playing better than he has for some time, finished as low amateur in the U.S. Open and came into this tournament with a grim desire to win. He had his toughest round Friday. His tee shots began to stray and his irons were erratic.

"I'm scrambling, but I'm scrambling pretty good or I wouldn't be here," he declared after winning.

Coe had a morning round of 73 over the rugged, 6,680-yard, par 35-35—70 course. He was out in 37 and finished the day six over par. By contrast, Aaron shot a 67, the best full round of the tournament, in the morning and wound up three under par for 27 holes.

Aaron is the first college player since Maxwell to reach the final. He's 6-2, weighs about 185 and has all kinds of endurance. His father is a former golf pro, but Tommy now has to play mostly at the University of Florida, where he'll be a senior this year. There no longer is a golf course in his home town and he has to drive 40 miles to Athens, Ga., to play during the summer.

WAS MEDALIST HERE

Tommy Aaron, who meets Charlie Coe in the U.S. Amateur golf final today at San Francisco, was medalist in the Labor Day-holiday Cotton States Invitational Tournament at Bayou DeSiard Country Club here. When he was beaten in the semi-finals, he remarked to Bayou pro Winnie Cole, "that's the way the game goes sometimes."

Bedard Puts Savitt Away

TORONTO (AP)—A young catquick French-Canadian, Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., crushed ailing Dick Savitt of Orange, N.J., 6-1, 6-2, to advance to the semifinals of an international tennis tournament Friday.

He rolled over the former Wimbledon, Australian and Canadian champion, breaking his service four times in the first game. He repeated the performance in the second. Savitt was playing with a sore racket wrist.

Top-seeded Mal Anderson was extended 6-2, 3-6, 7-5 by Budge Patty of Los Angeles and Paris but joined Bedard in the semis.

Tibbs Beaten By Matthews In 10 Rounds

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Unbeaten Len Matthews, the young Philadelphia knockout artist, proved he could box as well as punch Friday night as he outpointed tough little Tommy Tibbs of Boston in a 10-round nationally televised bout at the Arena.

Matthews, who won 12 of his previous 13 fights by knockouts, earned the unanimous vote of the two judges and referee after a rugged give-and-take battle with the durable Boston newsboy.

Under the five-point must Pennsylvania scoring system, Referee Pete Tomasco scored Matthews the winner 49-42, while Judges Bill Hall and Jimmy Weston awarded the Philadelphian the verdict 50-37 and 49-43 respectively. The Associated Press had the 19-year-old local lightweight a 50-35 winner.

Anderson now will face Billy Knight in one semifinal for the men's singles championship while Ayala and Bedard meet in the other.

In the upset in women's action, Mrs. Thelma Long, 40, defeated England's second - seeded Ann Haydon 6-4, 3-6, 6-2.

Lopez' Homer Gives A's 6th Straight Win

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A home run by Hector Lopez in the fifth inning was the margin for the Kansas City Athletics sixth straight victory as they downed Washington Friday night 4-3.

Bob Cerv also hit his 34th homer to lead off the second inning and Roy Sievers clouted his 37th with the bases empty in the eighth.

Ray Herbert, Kansas City righthander, got credit for the victory even though he was relieved by southpaw Dick Tomanek with two out in the seventh. Herbert also contributed a run-scoring single to the batting attack in the fourth inning. The triumph gave Herbert a 7-7 pitching record.

SECOND SHUTOUT

Jonesboro - Hodge Tumbles Ouachita Easily, 20 To 0

Playing great ball-control football, Jonesboro - Hodge ground out 284 yards rushing 201 in the first half, and rolled over Ouachita, 20-0, for their second straight shutout of the season here last night.

The visiting Tigers 28-0 winners over Jena last week won it with a great exhibition in the first half, permitting Ouachita only 13 offensive plays, a mere four in the second period, while scoring twice. The host Lions could gain only 22 yards in the first half but came through with 101 in the second, all on the ground. The usually accurate Rex Carter threw eight times without a hit for the Lions, 13-7, winners over Homer last Friday.

STATISTICS	Ouachita	Jonesboro
First downs	8	19
Yards rushing	123	284
Yards passing	0	62
Passes	8-0	4-2
Passes int. by	0	1
Fumbles lost	2	1
Punting	3-35	1-10
Penalties	2-10	5-55

Ronnie Carson ended a 59-yard march in the first quarter by going three yards for the initial Tiger touchdown and John Garrett climaxed an 85-yard push for the second TD in the second period. Quarterback Garrett went 2 yards around right end for the final score of the night in the fourth period, climaxing a 53-yard drive. Morris Douglas ran the first PAT and Carson ran for the second. Donnie Brunson failed on a running try for the PAT after the third touchdown.

Ernie Spurlock and Ronnie Marrus sparked a J-H defense that was rock-tough in the first half. Harold Moore starred in the Ouachita line and, with the Tigers getting into the secondary often, Rex Carter and Bobby Hendrix also turned in some good defensive work.

All four of Jonesboro's starting backs, Garrett, Brunson, Carson and Douglas, and a hard-running sub, Bobby Jones, turned in outstanding runs and Garrett hit on two of four passes for 62 yards.

J-H took the opening kickoff and went to the 21 before Ouachita held. After Woody Mahoney went 10 yards for the lone Ouachita first down of the half, the visitors took over again after returning a Carter punt to their 41. With Carson getting off a 14-yard jaunt and Garrett throwing to Brunson for 30, the Tigers went to the three where Carson took it over and Douglas added the PAT to make it 7-0.

Starting on the 15 to begin second quarter after taking another punt, the Tigers pushed 85-yards, making it the hard way with their longest gain in the march being a 12-yard trip by Jones. Garrett sneaked over from the one and Carson ran for the PAT and it was 14-0 at the half although they were on the 22 when it ended, with Jones' 35-yard run eating up most of the yards.

The pace slowed in the third period but Ouachita made its best showing of the game with a march to the J-H 32 before running out of gas.

A fumble recovery by Roy Young on the Jonesboro 47 set up the final J-H touchdown. A 32-yard Garrett - to - Douglas pass gained 32 of the yards and Douglas dropped a throw in the end zone on the next play. With the ball on the 12, two rushes by Brunson and one by Jones put it on the 2 from where Garrett circled right for the TD. Brunson's run was short for the PAT and it ended 20-0.

The winners had a big edge in the statistics with 19 first downs, 14 in the first half to Ouachita's one, to eight for the losers. Rushing and passing, Jonesboro-Hodge had 346 yards to 123 for Ouachita.

HADDAD RUNS 100

Neville Tramples Tornado, 32 To 12

HAYNESVILLE, La. (Special) —Dooley Haddad blasted the lid right off the ball game in the first 15 seconds when he took Haynesville's opening kickoff on his goalline and ran 100 yards for a Neville touchdown and the invading Tigers from Monroe went on to a 32-12 victory over the Golden Tornado in their district double-A football opener here last night.

Haynesville came back to score when Larry Drew Thomas romped over from the nine after the Tors had downed a punt on the Neville 37. A 25-yard pass set up the touchdown. But try for the point failed and the Tigers held their 7-6 lead since Joe Cage had converted behind the Haddad tally.

Neville left no doubt of the outcome in the next few minutes, however, romping for two more touchdowns in the second quarter, one on an 11-yard dash by Gene Howard that capped a 40-yard drive sparked by Devone Payne and Howard.

The Tigers hammered right back for another after a Haynesville punt rolled dead on the Neville 14. On the first play from scrimmage after the kick, Cage broke away on an 83-yard scamper that gave Neville a 20-6 lead at the half.

An alert Billy Cobb pounced on a Haynesville fumble to spike a Tornado march on the Neville 21. After a couple of one-yard carries by Cage, Howard broke away for 72 yards to paydirt.

Haynesville finally got back into the scoring act early in the last quarter as Knox and Appling drove from their own 39 to the Neville five from where Jerry "Red" Hines pounded over to score.

Cage ran from the eight for Neville's final TD after Howard and Payne had backed him in a march from their own 43.

Cage added one conversion behind Cobb's fumble recovery TD setup in addition to the tally behind the opening score.

Cage also carried the ball nine times for 126 yards, averaging 14 yards per carry. Howard rushed for 114 and Payne rushed for 54.

ARCARO GROUNDED

Rounder Aiming For Big Bankroll

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Jockey Eddie Arcaro, suffering an infected leg, was forced Friday to cancel his riding assignment on favored Round Table in Saturday's $100,000 United Nations Handicap.

The substitute rider was not immediately named for the 4-5 favorite, who will carry top weight of 130 pounds in the 1 3-16 mile race over a turf course. There are 11 rivals.

Arcaro was forced to cancel all his mounts Friday at Belmont Park. He was reported running a fever and under the care of a doctor.

Nothing less than a victory would push Round Table to the head of the class in the money world. First place would increase his lifetime earnings to $1,308,114, surpassing Nashua's $1,288,565.

Willie Shoemaker who has ridden Round Table in 21 of his 49 starts will switch to Adele L. Rand's Clem, winner over Round Table by 3¼ lengths in the Washington Park Handicap. Clem is lightweight of the field at 113 pounds. At Chicago, Clem had a 21-pound advantage over Round Table.

Round Table, unbeaten on the grass with eight straight, tuned up with an easy victory Monday in a 1 1-16-mile "prep" over an allowance field that included three UN rivals. He has carried 130 pounds successfully on seven occasions this year.

Clem finished second behind Round Table on two occasions while winning once. He was beaten a whisker by Bold Ruler in the Suburban and was a closeup third to Gallant Man in the Metropolitan.

With a forecast of cool, clear weather, a crowd of 25,000 is expected. The race will be televised by CBS. Post time is 2:51 p.m., CST.

Sanford Stud Farm's Rafty will carry 119 pounds and Mrs. S. Helene Sadacca's A Dragon Killer has 116 pounds.

Injury Halts Musial Play

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Ailing Stan Musial, bidding for his eighth National League batting championship, will be out of action for an indefinite period, St. Louis Cardinal officials disclosed Friday night.

"If I told you he could play in two or three days, I'd be lying," said Bob Bauman, the club's trainer. "His injury keeps him from swinging properly and the other night his leg was all puffed up."

The 37-year-old first baseman, batting .338, has been in and out of the line-up for the past nine days with muscle ailments in his left leg. In St. Louis Tuesday night Musial aggravated a pulled muscle.

Cubs Master Redlegs With 11-Hit Spree

CINCINNATI (AP)—Walt Moryn and Dale Long each banged a home run Friday night helping Chicago's Cubs spray 11 hits around Crosley Field in a 7-5 victory over Cincinnati's Redlegs. The loss weakened the Reds' hold on the National League's No. 4 spot.

Bill Henry, last of three Cub hurlers to try their stuff, had little trouble quelling the Redlegs in the last three innings.

It was the fourth straight loss for the Redlegs, who had earlier climbed from last place into the first division under temporary manager Jimmy Dykes.

Long's sixth inning homer and Moryn's big blast in the eighth—his 25th this season—provided the Cub edge.

Waters Raps 2 Mississippi Grid Machines

HAMMOND, La. (AP) — Commissioner T. H. Waters of the Louisiana High School Athletic Assn. yesterday accused two Mississippi high schools—Natchez and St. Stanislaus—of using ineligible players and urged member schools not to schedule them.

The two Mississippi schools, he said, are using boys "that have become ineligible in Louisiana" because they are over-age, completed eight semesters in high schools or for other various reasons.

He asked member schools "not to renew contracts with out-of-state schools known to be using ineligible Louisiana boys." Natchez and St. Stanislaus, located in Bay St. Louis, were the only such schools he identified.

An association committee, he said, felt it is unfair to Louisiana schools to have to compete against such schools and ruled that any school who has scheduled a game using such boys may cancel its contract without penalty.

Natchez, a member of Mississippi's Big Eight Conference, rarely meets Louisiana teams, but St. Stanislaus has five Louisiana teams on its schedule this year. St. Stanislaus met Catholic High at Baton Rouge last night.

Two Sharing Ladies' Golf Lead At 72

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Mrs. Betty Mims Danoff of Dallas, Tex., and Fay Crocker of Uruguay fired two-under-par 72s Friday to take the opening round lead in the $5,000 Jackson Ladies Open Golf Tournament.

Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., and Mickey Wright of Bonita, Calif., both came in one stroke behind with 73s.

Play was hampered by a light rain that fell during most of the play, although the sun broke through just as the last pros were posting their scores. The Colonial Country Club course played from two to four strokes longer as the lush grass cut down the roll and the soft ground absorbed much of the ball's team when it hit.

Mrs. Danoff, mother of three and a part-time member of the touring group, had a 36-36, cutting two strokes off the revised ladies par of 38-36. She was among the earlier finishers and her score stood up until late afternoon when Miss Crocker turned in a 35-37.

Mrs. Danoff used 25 putts on her round, while Miss Crocker had 28 after hitting 12 of 18 greens.

The second round of the 54-hole event over a 6,700-yard course will be played Saturday, with the final round Sunday.

Trailing the leaders with 74s were Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., Kathy Cornelius of Lakeland, Fla., Marlene Bauer Hagge of Pittsburgh, Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., and defending champion Betty Godd of Louisville, Ky., and San Antonio.

Bracketed at 75 were Gloria Fecht of Pine Needles, N.C., Ruth Jessen of Seattle, Joyce Ziske of Waterford, Wis., Jackie Pung of San Francisco, and Beverly Hanson of Indio, Calif.

Leading the amateurs were Sandra Haynie of Austin, Tex., with a 78 and Mary Mills of Gulfport with 79.

Central Defeats Underdog Rebels

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — (Special) — Little Rock's Central High School, in the national spotlight of the segregation issue, was almost "taken" by the Rebels of West Monroe (La.) High School here last night in a football thriller, but Central fought from behind in the last quarter to beat back the invaders, 20-14.

Moral victories are scarce around here, but West Monroe certainly won one last night as Arkansas's champions appeared on the verge of an upset.

Instead, Central scored two late touchdowns to overcome a 14-7 Rebel lead and notch their 34th consecutive victory.

Jerry Stovall, a tremendous star in defeat, scored both Rebel touchdowns, one on a 5-yard interception return. The ace halfback set up the first touchdown with a 68-yard jaunt and scored it on a two-yard trip around left end. He kicked both extra points.

A fumble recovery on the Rebel 46 set up the first Little Rock touchdown. Doyne Davis ran 30 yards to set up the score and Fallon Davis passed 13 yards to Charles Patterson for the touchdown. Steve Hathcote kicked the PAT and Little Rock led, 7-0.

The Rebels went 89 yards to tie up in the first quarter with Stovall's 68-yard jaunt setting it up. Stovall went to the 7 and an offside penalty put the ball on the two from where Jerry went over and kicked the PAT to tie it up, 7-7, and it was that way as the quarter ended.

The underdog Rebels went to the Little Rock seven before a penalty threw them back. Little Rock held and it was still tied at the half.

Stovall's 65-yard run with the interception put West Monroe ahead in the third, 14-7. Central came back to deadlock it in the fourth quarter with Doyne Davis capping an 80-yard march with a 15 yard trip over tackle for the touchdown. Hathcote kicked the PAT and it was 14-14.

Central won it late in the fourth when they took over on the Rebel 22 after a punt return. Hathcote went 15 yards to set it up and went over from the one for the touchdown to make it 20-14. West couldn't go in the remaining 2½ minutes and Little Rock took over and ran out the clock to preserve the win.

U.S. AMATEUR GOLF

Aaron Meets Coe In National Final

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Charlie Coe, a stone-faced and determined Oklahoman and Tommy Aaron, a husky ex-quarterback, traveled contrasting routes into the finals of the National Amateur Golf Championship Friday.

They will meet Saturday on the hilly Lake Course of the Olympic Country Club in the 36-hole final for the same title Coe won in 1949 and which has eluded him ever since.

Coe, 34 years old and tired physically and mentally after an arduous week of golf, outlasted a virtually unknown Cincinnati player, Roger McManus, to win 3 and 2. Aaron, 21 and fresh as a breeze, handed a crushing 10 and 9 beating to even younger Dick Foote of Santa Ana, Calif.

Aaron's victory was the most decisive in this tournament since Billy Maxwell beat J. C. Benson by the same margin on his way to winning the 1951 championship. Coe won by an even bigger margin, 11 and 10, over Rufus King in the 1949 final.

Since that victory, Coe has been rated as one of America's top amateur golfers. Aaron's reputation has been made principally in college competition, although he won the Southeastern Amateur and Memphis Colonial Invitation this year.

Coe, playing better than he has for some time, finished as low amateur in the U.S. Open and came into this tournament with a grim desire to win. He had his toughest round Friday. His tee shots began to stray and his irons were erratic.

"I'm scrambling, but I'm scrambling pretty good or I wouldn't be here," he declared after winning.

Coe had a morning round of 73 over the rugged, 6,680-yard, par 35-35—70 course. He was out in 37 and finished the day six over par. By contrast, Aaron shot a 67, the best full round of the tournament, in the morning and wound up three under par for 27 holes.

Aaron is the first college player since Maxwell to reach the final. He's 6-2, weighs about 185 and has all kinds of endurance. His father is a former golf pro, but Tommy now has to play mostly at the University of Florida, where he'll be a senior this year. There no longer is a golf course in his home town and he has to drive 40 miles to Athens, Ga., to play during the summer.

WAS MEDALIST HERE

Tommy Aaron, who meets Charlie Coe in the U.S. Amateur golf final today at San Francisco, was medalist in the Labor Day-holiday Cotton States Invitational Tournament at Bayou DeSiard Country Club here. When he was beaten in the semi-finals, he remarked to Bayou pro Winnie Cole, "that's the way the game goes sometimes."

Bedard Puts Savitt Away

TORONTO (AP)—A young catquick French-Canadian, Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., crushed ailing Dick Savitt of Orange, N.J., 6-1, 6-2, to advance to the semifinals of an international tennis tournament Friday.

He rolled over the former Wimbledon, Australian and Canadian champion, breaking his service four times in the first game. He repeated the performance in the second. Savitt was playing with a sore racket wrist.

Top-seeded Mal Anderson was extended 6-2, 3-6, 7-5 by Budge Patty of Los Angeles and Paris but joined Bedard in the semis.

Tibbs Beaten By Matthews In 10 Rounds

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Unbeaten Len Matthews, the young Philadelphia knockout artist, proved he could box as well as punch Friday night as he outpointed tough little Tommy Tibbs of Boston in a 10-round nationally televised bout at the Arena.

Matthews, who won 12 of his previous 13 fights by knockouts, earned the unanimous vote of the two judges and referee after a rugged give-and-take battle with the durable Boston newsboy.

Under the five-point must Pennsylvania scoring system, Referee Pete Tomasco scored Matthews the winner 49-42, while Judges Bill Hall and Jimmy Weston awarded the Philadelphian the verdict 50-37 and 49-43 respectively. The Associated Press had the 19-year-old local lightweight a 50-35 winner.

Anderson now will face Billy Knight in one semifinal for the men's singles championship while Ayala and Bedard meet in the other.

In the upset in women's action, Mrs. Thelma Long, 40, defeated England's second - seeded Ann Haydon 6-4, 3-6, 6-2.

Lopez' Homer Gives A's 6th Straight Win

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A home run by Hector Lopez in the fifth inning was the margin for the Kansas City Athletics sixth straight victory as they downed Washington Friday night 4-3.

Bob Cerv also hit his 34th homer to lead off the second inning and Roy Sievers clouted his 37th with the bases empty in the eighth.

Ray Herbert, Kansas City right-hander, got credit for the victory even though he was relieved by southpaw Dick Tomanek with two out in the seventh. Herbert also contributed a run-scoring single to the batting attack in the fourth inning. The triumph gave Herbert a 7-7 pitching record.

TONIGHT

Northeast Gridders Open Season At Southern State

Northeast's new-look football team, a new coach, 18 freshmen and seven transfers, makes its 1958 debut at 8 o'clock makes its against Southern State at Magnolia, Ark., but familiar actors will handle most of the starring roles.

Only one newcomer, junior college transfer Wally Cox, will be in the starting lineup for the local Indians but five will be on the second unit and a flock of them will fill the supporting cast for Jack Rowan's first production.

Rowan gets a rare chance to see what his newcomers can do since the game will be played under National Alliance rules with free substitution and the conventional extra-point system. Tonight contest will be the only one of the season for the Redskins under free-substitution rules and Rowan is planning to take advantage of it.

"We'll use two platoons," says the Indian mentor, "and, if possible, we'll sub in spots in the later stages."

On the second team, Rowan will have Robert Ray Earle (200) and Dale Hoover (185) or Jerry Head (180) at the ends, Bill Broom (210) and Ray Borders (220) at the tackles, Roy Cagle (205) and John McClendon (200) at the guards and Sidney "Buck" Anderson (196) at center. Robert Randel (180) will be at quarter, Terry Reeves (160) at right, Terry Head (180) at left and Stewart "Smokey" Stover (195) at full. Hoover and Randel were redshirts last year. Broom, Borders and Stover are transfers and the rest are lettermen, Cagle getting his at tackle last season.

Keith Amos, a capable halfback last year, tore open the stitches on his bad knee last week and won't even suit up for tonight's game and may be out indefinitely. Reeves and Cagle are also nursing injuries and won't see heavy duty.

As for the opposition, they won four and lost five in 1957 and have 13 lettermen back.

"We really don't know what to expect," says Rowan. "They've got a good fullback and will probably go in heavy for the running game. They're big in the line and we're expecting to have to go to the air for most of our yardage. As a result, we're hoping for good weather."

The good fullback is Jim Vandenberg, a 180-pounder who was the Muleriders' top ground gainer last season. Southern lost its star quarterback of '57, Calvin Neal, and Bobby Bledsoe will run their regular split-T attack.

Southern's probable starting lineup lists captain Sammy Waters (190) and Floyd McCann (190) at the ends, Stan Birkhead, Gene McDonald or Kenneth "Porky" Hammons, all around 210, at the tackles, John Camp (190) and Steve Purgess (185) at the guards and Jerry Camp (180) at center. Bledsoe (185) will be at quarter, two sophomores, John Barton (165) and Kenneth Sexton (170) at the halves and Vandenberg at full.

THE NEW DAY DAWNS — Pre-season football practice at Northeast Louisiana State is over, and Coach Jack Rowan, left, new Indian coach prepares to launch the Tribe on a new athletic era in the season opener against Southern State at Magnolia, Ark., tonight Here Rowan talks over the situation with his tri-captains, quarterback "Sleepy" Reynolds (10), and Joe Driskill (83) and end Jim Knox (85). Dodgers Spike Pirates, 7 To 3

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Roger Craig won his first game of the season for the Los Angeles Dodgers Friday night, defeating the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-3. Duke Snider drove in four runs with four hits, including his 14th homer.

Craig gave every indication he had overcome the arm trouble which hampered him all season. He gave up seven hits, walked only two and struck out five. Dick Stuart four times, in beating the second-place Pirates where they are toughest—on the home lot.

It was only the Pirates' third setback in 20 games at Forbes Field and halted their latest winning streak at three games.

While Craig was holding back the Pirates, his teammates socked two Pittsburgh hurlers for nine hits, including left fielder Ron Fairly's first major league homer. Ron Blackburn held the Bums hit-less over the last two innings.

TRIBE WINS, 4-3

Colavito's Grand Slam Nips Bosox

CLEVELAND (AP)—Rocky Colavito's grand slam home run broke a tie in the seventh inning Friday night and the Cleveland Indians defeated the Boston Red Sox, 5-4. Sammy White's homer in the same inning for Boston was the first hit off the Indians' Gary Bell.

Ted Williams and Pete Runnels tied for the American League's batting leadership at .320, got a hit apiece.

After his strong start Bell was chased from the mound in the eighth when he gave up two runs. An error by Randy Jackson let in the third Boston run in that inning. Jim "Mudcat" Grant relieved and snuffed out the Red Sox rally to protect Bell's 10th victory.

Colavito's grand slam homer came with the score tied 1-1. It was his 35th homer and his second grand slam of the season.

Bell and Billy Moran singled and Minnie Minoso walked in the seventh. Murray Wall replaced starter Ted Bowsfield for Boston and Colavito homered.

The Indians scored their first run off Bowsfield in the sixth on singles by Vic Power and Woody Held. Bowsfield was charged with the loss, his first against three victories.

Kaline Homer Helps Tigers Grab 3-1 Win

DETROIT (AP) — Al Kaline, still nursing a slim chance in the American League batting race, Friday night hammered a two-out, eighth inning home run that enabled Detroit's Frank Lary to whip the Baltimore Orioles 3-1 for the first time this season.

Lake Charles Fans Backing Dark As Pilot

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—Hometown fans of Alvin Dark started a petition telegram Friday to help the versatile Chicago Cub infielder become manager of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Those who started the move said the telegram isn't urging the Cards to hire Dark, but merely points out his qualifications, personality and "Christian life."

The telegram will be sent to Card owner August Busch Jr., asking him to give Dark serious consideration for the manager's job.

The Associated Press learned earlier this week Fred Hutchinson would not manage the Cards next year. Dark has been mentioned as a top candidate for the post.

FOR QUARTERBACKS

'Red' Grange Will Speak At Tallulah

TALLULAH,La. (Special) —The Tallulah Quarterback Club, strong supporters of the Tallulah High Trojans' football team, will hold its first big meeting Monday night at the new Elementary School Cafeteria and Auditorium beginning at 7 o'clock.

The club has secured Harold "Red" Grange, the famous Galloping Ghost of University of Illinois, who later played professional football with the Chicago Bears, as their guest speaker.

Grange is now a sports commentator and can be heard during the football season giving a description during time outs in the Sunday professional game, and during the offseason he runs his insurance business in Miami, Fla.

Grange is a much sought after speaker and the Tallulah Quarterbacks are very fortunate to secure him as their speaker. It is understood here that he has a definite program of his own and afterwards holds a question and answer period.

The local club has sent invitations to all past speakers at the club to attend, as well as sports editors and TV sportscasters in this area.

Only members of the club are entitled to tickets to the banquet, but the public is invited to the program which will be held in the air-conditioned auditorium immediately after the banquet. The club's guest will attend the banquet also.

This is Grange's first appearance in this part of the country and a large crowd is expected to attend.

High School Football

JENA THUMPS LASALLE

OLLA, La. (Special) — Jena's Giants took advantage of two fumbles and scored a touchdown in each of the first and second periods to thump LaSalle, 13-7, here last night.

Fullback Carlee Lancaster plunged through from the two to score Jena's first touchdown after the Giants recovered a fumble and marched 35 yards to the two.

Quarterback Ronnie Tullos ran the extra point for the visitors.

But LaSalle came back early in the second period, got off a 70-yard drive, and quarterback Gary Russell went over from the one. End Joe McAdams converted.

The Giants recovered a LaSalle fumble at the 50 later in the period and drove downfield to the two where speedy Ed Williams carried the pigskin over. The conversion failed.

In the final quarter, Jena held LaSalle on the Giants' five for three downs. The Giants threatened only once during the second half, but were held at LaSalle's 13.

The win was the first for Jena against one defeat. It was LaSalle's first defeat against one win.

WATERPROOF WINS

WATERPROOF, La. (Special)—The Waterproof Tigers beat the Farmerville Farmers 7 to 0 last night in what turned out to be a strictly defensive ball game all the way.

The only score of the game occurred in the last of the first quarter when Mike Martien galloped 27 yards for a TD. Quarterback Edward Chase booted the extra point.

CROSSETT 36, MONTICELLO 6

CROSSETT, Ark. (Special) — Crossett's Eagles flew over the Hillbillys from Monticello here last night for an easy 36-6 victory.

Don Grice and Bobby Keene scored twice each for Crossett and Robert Taunton pounded paydirt once. Jimmy Ross converted twice for the Eagles and Don Switzer booted one.

Monticello's lone touchdown was scored by John O'Neil.

Crossett rolled to 16 first downs to Monticello's eight while the Eagles rushed for 436 yards to 151 for the Hillbillys. Crossett passed eight times and completed twice for 34 yards.

The Hillbillys threw 11 passes, completing only one for 30 yards. Crossett was penalized five times for 25 yards and Monticello lost 20 yards through two penalties.

WINNSBORO WALLOPS COLUMBIA

WINNSBORO, La. (Special) — Winnsboro rolled easily over Columbia, 39-7, here last night, scoring twice in the first three periods, for the Wildcats' second victory of the season.

Fullback J. D. Busby climaxed the night with a 99-yard run and tiny Frank Peoples, a Wildcat scatback, galloped 88 yards for a other.

Busby's spectacular run from his own one came one play after Peoples shook loose for 90 yards to paydirt, only to have it called back on a clipping penalty.

Halfback Johnny Wayne Sisk breezed around left end to open Wildcat scoring in the first quarter. He went 11 yards for the touchdown and quarterback Pete Moore converted.

Moore slipped around right end and went 36 yards for a TD in the second quarter.

In the third period, David Elkin went over center from the four. Moore again converted.

Winnsboro's final touchdown came on a 57-yard pass play from quarterback Joe Henry to right end William Livingston. The kick by Moore went bad.

RAMS DOWN HORNETS

RAYVILLE, La. (Special) — Bastrop's triple-A Rams opened the 1958 football season here last night with a 34-14 victory over the class A Rayville Hornets.

The Rams scored in all but the final quarter in a game marred by penalties while Hornets waited until the third period before drawing blood.

Charles Magee ripped off 20 yards for Bastrop's first touchdown with Charles Burks converting early in the opening stanza.

Jerry Hollis scored soon after for the Rams, racing 45 yards for the tally and Burks again converted from placement. Burks pitched a second period pass to Arnold, a play covering 20 yards, for Bastrop's third touchdown. Burks converted.

Phillip Musgrove scored from the two later in the period and this time Burks failed to convert. Hollis scored his second touchdown of the evening in the third period on a 20-yard and Burks kicked his fourth and final extra point of the game.

Rayville jumped into the scoring column when Ller Ellis hit paydirt from the four in the third quarter and Paul Hunter kicked the extra point.

Hunter returned in the final period on a 20-yard trek for the Hornets' second TD. Stewart Dyer threw to Danny McCarty for the extra point.

DELHI ROMPS

DELHI, La. (Special) — The Delhi Bears rolled over the Oak Grove Tigers, 30-0, last night, sparked by the outstanding playing of halfback, Ken Newton, who accounted for three of the Bears' five TD's.

Early in the first quarter, fullback Francis Coper crashed into paydirt for the Bears to make the score six to nothing. Joe Kyle made an abortive attempt for the extra point.

Halfback Billy Martin scooted into the Tiger in zone in the second quarter for the second touchdown of the game and Joe Kyle made good the extra point, only to have it nullified by a penalty. This made the half-time score, 12-0, Bears' favor.

Ken Newton in the third quarter made his first touchdown, but Joe Kyle's kick again failed to go between the poles.

In the fourth, Newton really got hot and blasted his way across for a pair of TD's. Neither try for the extra point was good, making the final score 30 to nothing.

During half-time proceedings, the Delhi band formed the letters HJ on the gridiron in honor of Helen Junkin, a Delhi girl scheduled to become a cheerleader this year who was involved in an auto accident recently and subsequently lost her leg. The pep squad led two cheers for Helen who is currently in the St. Francis Hospital in Monroe.

TERREBONNE UPSET

HOUMA, La. (AP) — Jesuit of New Orleans, making its debut under new coach Ken Tarzetti, Friday night turned in a stunning 26-21 upset over Terrebonne.

The Jays rallied twice to whip the favored Tigers, rated the No. 4 team in this week's Associated Press poll.

Terrebonne led 14-6 at halftime on Tommy Thompson's 66-yard pass to Larry delaBretonne and a four-yard plunge by Richard Boudreaux. Pat Screen tallied the quarter when Screen dashed 27 yards and Mike Rooney's 15-yard scamper. Screen went around left end for the final Jesuit tally in the fourth period.

Terrebonne's other touchdown was a 42-yard run by Thompson.

Screen and Pat Berrigan accounted for the Jesuit conversions. Thompson booted the three Terrebonne conversions.

CATHOLIC, 33-7

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Hard-hitting Catholic High linemen paced the Bears to a surprising 33-7 victory over St. Stanislaus Friday night.

St. Stanislaus had been heavily favored.

Frank Culotta scored two touchdowns for the Bears, one on a 10-yard pass from Nolan Keller and another on a 19-yard run.

Charlie Viverata, Catholic halfback, crammed in two scores, one on a 13-yard scamper and the other on a seven-yard burst. Carl Edmonston scored the other marker on a four-yard run.

St. Stanislaus scored in the third period when Cyril Giarrusso punched across from the nine.

Edmonston kicked three extra points for Catholic. J. E. Loiacano booted the St. Stanislaus conversion.

The game clouded by the complaint from the Louisiana High School Athletic Assn. that St. Stanislaus was using players who would be ineligible in Louisiana.

Catholic High officials said Friday night they would make no complaint of their own.

Thad Waters, LHSAA commissioner, has given Louisiana schools permission to cancel games with St. Stanislaus without penalty.

TROJANS WIN, 32-13

TALLULAH (Special) — Dangerous Dan Neumann and Wayne Noland each scored two touchdowns here last night as the Tallulah Trojans trounced Rolling Fork, Miss., 32-13.

Noland scored Tallulah's first touchdown in the first period on a 35-yard run and in the third period intercepted a pass and raced 80 yards for his second TD gallop.

Neumann, one of Louisiana's better prep backs, smashed off tackle in the first quarter on a 43-yard run to paydirt.

Rolling Fork ended the scoring in the first half when Phillip Thomas threw a pass to Uzzle for 20 yards and Joe Warbington ran the extra point.

Neumann opened the scoring in the third period with a 35-yard gallop and Jerry Fairbanks converted.

Tallulah's last touchdown came when Carl Williamson took a pitchout and scooted around left end for 20 yards.

Larry Wilson climaxed the game for Rolling Fork in the third period when he took a Tallulah kickoff and returned it 82 yards for the touchdown.

BRAVES, 6-0

Burdett Stops Cards On 3 Hits

MILWAUKEE (AP)—After failing twice in the quest for his 17th victory, Milwaukee's Lew Burdette grabbed it Friday night by stopping the St. Louis Cardinals on three hits while Hank Aaron's three-run homer led the National League-leading Braves to a 6-0; victory.

The Braves boosted their hold on first to 7½ games and reduced their magic number to six when the second-place Pirates were defeated.

The Cardinals were never able to initiate even a mild threat against the Milwaukee right-hander as he fanned five and didn't give up a walk in keeping alive hopes for a 20-victory season. He has 10 defeats.

All three of the Cardinal hits were singles by Ken Boyer, Bobby Gene Smith and Irv Noren leading off in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings respectively. A doubleplay removed Boyer and Noren was out stealing.

Boyer didn't get the first St. Louis hit until after Burdette had retired in order the first 12 Cardinals he faced, striking out three of the first six going to the plate.

Turley Shuts Out Chisox For 21st

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — Bob Turley became the first New York Yankee pitcher to win 21 games since 1951 when he blanked the Chicago White Sox 5-0 Friday night on four hits before a crowd of 24,892.

The victory reduced the Yankee magic number to three. Any combination of three Yankee triumphs and three White Sox losses would assure the perennial champions of their ninth flag in the last 10 years. A triumph over Chicago Saturday would clinch a tie for the Bombers.

Turley was never in serious difficulty as he gained his sixth shutout of the season and became the first Yankee to win 21 since Eddie Lopat and Vic Raschi shared similar honors seven years ago.

Giants Sweep Two Contests From Phillies

PHILDELPHIA (AP) — Jim Davenport led the San Francisco hitting attack with seven hits, including two homers, as the Giants defeated Phildelphia 5-2 in the first game of a doubleheader on splendid relief work by Al Worthington, then clobbered the Phillies 19-2 with a 17-hit barrage in the second.

Richie Ashburn of the Phils, with five hits in eight times at bat, took over the National League batting lead with an average of .339. The Giants total in the second game was a season's record.

TONIGHT

Northeast Gridders Open Season At Southern State

Northeast's new-look football team, a new coach, 18 freshmen and seven transfers, makes its 1958 debut at 8 o'clock makes its against Southern State at Magnolia, Ark., but familiar actors will handle most of the starring roles.

Only one newcomer, junior college transfer Wally Cox, will be in the starting lineup for the local Indians but five will be on the second unit and a flock of them will fill the supporting cast for Jack Rowan's first production.

Rowan gets a rare chance to see what his newcomers can do since the game will be played under National Alliance rules with free substitution and the conventional extra-point system. Tonight contest will be the only one of the season for the Redskins under free-substitution rules and Rowan is planning to take advantage of it.

"We'll use two platoons," says the Indian mentor, "and, if possible, we'll sub in spots in the later stages."

On the second team, Rowan will have Robert Ray Earle (200) and Dale Hoover (185) or Jerry Head (180) at the ends, Bill Broom (210) and Ray Borders (220) at the tackles, Roy Cagle (205) and John McClendon (200) at the guards and Sidney "Buck" Anderson (196) at center. Robert Randel (180) will be at quarter, Terry Reeves (160) at right, Terry Head (180) at left and Stewart "Smokey" Stover (195) at full. Hoover and Randel were redshirts last year. Broom, Borders and Stover are transfers and the rest are lettermen, Cagle getting his at tackle last season.

Keith Amos, a capable halfback last year, tore open the stitches on his bad knee last week and won't even suit up for tonight's game and may be out indefinitely. Reeves and Cagle are also nursing injuries and won't see heavy duty.

As for the opposition, they won four and lost five in 1957 and have 13 lettermen back.

"We really don't know what to expect," says Rowan. "They've got a good fullback and will probably go in heavy for the running game. They're big in the line and we're expecting to have to go to the air for most of our yardage. As a result, we're hoping for good weather."

The good fullback is Jim Vandenberg, a 180-pounder who was the Muleriders' top ground gainer last season. Southern lost its star quarterback of '57, Calvin Neal, and Bobby Bledsoe will run their regular split-T attack.

Southern's probable starting lineup lists captain Sammy Waters (190) and Floyd McCann (190) at the ends, Stan Birkhead, Gene McDonald or Kenneth "Porky" Hammons, all around 210, at the tackles, John Camp (190) and Steve Purgess (185) at the guards and Jerry Camp (180) at center. Bledsoe (185) will be at quarter, two sophomores, John Barton (165) and Kenneth Sexton (170) at the halves and Vandenberg at full.

THE NEW DAY DAWNS — Pre-season football practice at Northeast Louisiana State is over, and Coach Jack Rowan, left, new Indian coach prepares to launch the Tribe on a new athletic era in the season opener against Southern State at Magnolia, Ark., tonight Here Rowan talks over the situation with his tri-captains, quarterback "Sleepy" Reynolds (10), and Joe Driskill (83) and end Jim Knox (85). Dodgers Spike Pirates, 7 To 3

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Roger Craig won his first game of the season for the Los Angeles Dodgers Friday night, defeating the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-3. Duke Snider drove in four runs with four hits, including his 14th homer.

Craig gave every indication he had overcome the arm trouble which hampered him all season. He gave up seven hits, walked only two and struck out five. Dick Stuart four times, in beating the second-place Pirates where they are toughest—on the home lot.

It was only the Pirates' third setback in 20 games at Forbes Field and halted their latest winning streak at three games.

Colavito's Grand Slam Nips Bosox

CLEVELAND (AP)—Rocky Colavito's grand slam home run broke a tie in the seventh inning Friday night and the Cleveland Indians defeated the Boston Red Sox, 5-4. Sammy White's homer in the same inning for Boston was the first hit off the Indians' Gary Bell.

Ted Williams and Pete Runnels tied for the American League's batting leadership at .320, got a hit apiece.

After his strong start Bell was chased from the mound in the eighth when he gave up two runs. An error by Randy Jackson let in the third Boston run in that inning. Jim "Mudcat" Grant relieved and snuffed out the Red Sox rally to protect Bell's 10th victory.

Colavito's grand slam homer came with the score tied 1-1. It was his 35th homer and his second grand slam of the season.

Bell and Billy Moran singled and Minnie Minoso walked in the seventh. Murray Wall replaced starter Ted Bowsfield for Boston and Colavito homered.

The Indians scored their first run off Bowsfield in the sixth on singles by Vic Power and Woody Held. Bowsfield was charged with the loss, his first against three victories.

Lake Charles Fans Backing Dark As Pilot

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—Hometown fans of Alvin Dark started a petition telegram Friday to help the versatile Chicago Cub infielder become manager of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Those who started the move said the telegram isn't urging the Cards to hire Dark, but merely points out his qualifications, personality and "Christian life."

The telegram will be sent to Card owner August Busch Jr., asking him to give Dark serious consideration for the manager's job.

The Associated Press learned earlier this week Fred Hutchinson would not manage the Cards next year. Dark has been mentioned as a top candidate for the post.

JENA THUMPS LASALLE

OLLA, La. (Special) — Jena's Giants took advantage of two fumbles and scored a touchdown in each of the first and second periods to thump LaSalle, 13-7, here last night.

Fullback Carlee Lancaster plunged through from the two to score Jena's first touchdown after the Giants recovered a fumble and marched 35 yards to the two.

Quarterback Ronnie Tullos ran the extra point for the visitors.

But LaSalle came back early in the second period, got off a 70-yard drive, and quarterback Gary Russell went over from the one. End Joe McAdams converted.

The Giants recovered a LaSalle fumble at the 50 later in the period and drove downfield to the two where speedy Ed Williams carried the pigskin over. The conversion failed.

In the final quarter, Jena held LaSalle on the Giants' five for three downs. The Giants threatened only once during the second half, but were held at LaSalle's 13.

The win was the first for Jena against one defeat. It was LaSalle's first defeat against one win.

WATERPROOF WINS

WATERPROOF, La. (Special)—The Waterproof Tigers beat the Farmerville Farmers 7 to 0 last night in what turned out to be a strictly defensive ball game all the way.

The only score of the game occurred in the last of the first quarter when Mike Martien galloped 27 yards for a TD. Quarterback Edward Chase booted the extra point.

CROSSETT 36, MONTICELLO 6

CROSSETT, Ark. (Special) — Crossett's Eagles flew over the Hillbillys from Monticello here last night for an easy 36-6 victory.

Don Grice and Bobby Keene scored twice each for Crossett and Robert Taunton pounded paydirt once. Jimmy Ross converted twice for the Eagles and Don Switzer booted one.

Monticello's lone touchdown was scored by John O'Neil.

Crossett rolled to 16 first downs to Monticello's eight while the Eagles rushed for 436 yards to 151 for the Hillbillys. Crossett passed eight times and completed twice for 34 yards.

The Hillbillys threw 11 passes, completing only one for 30 yards. Crossett was penalized five times for 25 yards and Monticello lost 20 yards through two penalties.

WINNSBORO WALLOPS COLUMBIA

WINNSBORO, La. (Special) — Winnsboro rolled easily over Columbia, 39-7, here last night, scoring twice in the first three periods, for the Wildcats' second victory of the season.

Fullback J. D. Busby climaxed the night with a 99-yard run and tiny Frank Peoples, a Wildcat scatback, galloped 88 yards for a other.

Busby's spectacular run from his own one came one play after Peoples shook loose for 90 yards to paydirt, only to have it called back on a clipping penalty.

Halfback Johnny Wayne Sisk breezed around left end to open Wildcat scoring in the first quarter. He went 11 yards for the touchdown and quarterback Pete Moore converted.

Moore slipped around right end and went 36 yards for a TD in the second quarter.

In the third period, David Elkin went over center from the four. Moore again converted.

Winnsboro's final touchdown came on a 57-yard pass play from quarterback Joe Henry to right end William Livingston. The kick by Moore went bad.

RAMS DOWN HORNETS

RAYVILLE, La. (Special) — Bastrop's triple-A Rams opened the 1958 football season here last night with a 34-14 victory over the class A Rayville Hornets.

The Rams scored in all but the final quarter in a game marred by penalties while Hornets waited until the third period before drawing blood.

Charles Magee ripped off 20 yards for Bastrop's first touchdown with Charles Burks converting early in the opening stanza.

Jerry Hollis scored soon after for the Rams, racing 45 yards for the tally and Burks again converted from placement. Burks pitched a second period pass to Arnold, a play covering 20 yards, for Bastrop's third touchdown. Burks converted.

Phillip Musgrove scored from the two later in the period and this time Burks failed to convert. Hollis scored his second touchdown of the evening in the third period on a 20-yard and Burks kicked his fourth and final extra point of the game.

Rayville jumped into the scoring column when Iler Ellis hit paydirt from the four in the third quarter and Paul Hunter kicked the extra point.

DELHI ROMPS

DELHI, La. (Special) — The Delhi Bears rolled over the Oak Grove Tigers, 30-0, last night, sparked by the outstanding playing of halfback, Ken Newton, who accounted for three of the Bears' five TD's.

Early in the first quarter, fullback Francis Coper crashed into paydirt for the Bears to make the score six to nothing. Joe Kyle made an abortive attempt for the extra point.

Halfback Billy Martin scooted into the Tiger in zone in the second quarter for the second touchdown of the game and Joe Kyle made good the extra point, only to have it nullified by a penalty. This made the half-time score, 12-0, Bears' favor.

Ken Newton in the third quarter made his first touchdown, but Joe Kyle's kick again failed to go between the poles.

In the fourth, Newton really got hot and blasted his way across for a pair of TD's. Neither try for the extra point was good, making the final score 30 to nothing.

During half-time proceedings, the Delhi band formed the letters HJ on the gridiron in honor of Helen Junkin, a Delhi girl scheduled to become a cheerleader this year who was involved in an auto accident recently and subsequently lost her leg. The pep squad led two cheers for Helen who is currently in the St. Francis Hospital in Monroe.

TERREBONNE UPSET

HOUMA, La. (AP) — Jesuit of New Orleans, making its debut under new coach Ken Tarzetti, Friday night turned in a stunning 26-21 upset over Terrebonne.

The Jays rallied twice to whip the favored Tigers, rated the No. 4 team in this week's Associated Press poll.

Terrebonne led 14-6 at halftime on Tommy Thompson's 66-yard pass to Larry delaBretonne and a four-yard plunge by Richard Boudreaux. Pat Screen tallied the quarter when Screen dashed 27 yards and Mike Rooney's 15-yard scamper. Screen went around left end for the final Jesuit tally in the fourth period.

Terrebonne's other touchdown was a 42-yard run by Thompson. Screen and Pat Berrigan accounted for the Jesuit conversions. Thompson booted the three Terrebonne conversions.

CATHOLIC, 33-7

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Hard-hitting Catholic High linemen paced the Bears to a surprising 33-7 victory over St. Stanislaus Friday night.

St. Stanislaus had been heavily favored.

Frank Culotta scored two touchdowns for the Bears, one on a 10-yard pass from Nolan Keller and another on a 19-yard run.

Charlie Viverata, Catholic halfback, crammed in two scores, one on a 13-yard scamper and the other on a seven-yard burst. Carl Edmonston scored the other marker on a four-yard run.

St. Stanislaus scored in the third period when Cyril Giarrusso punched across from the nine.

Edmonston kicked three extra points for Catholic, J. E. Loiacano booted the St. Stanislaus conversion.

The game clouded by the complaint from the Louisiana High School Athletic Assn. that St. Stanislaus was using players who would be ineligible in Louisiana.

Catholic High officials said Friday night they would make no complaint of their own.

Thad Waters, LHSAA commissioner, has given Louisiana schools permission to cancel games with St. Stanislaus without penalty.

TROJANS WIN, 32-13

TALLULAH (Special) — Dangerous Dan Neumann and Wayne Noland each scored two touchdowns here last night as the Tallulah Trojans trounced Rolling Fork, Miss., 32-13.

Noland scored Tallulah's first touchdown in the first period on a 35-yard run and in the third period intercepted a pass and raced 80 yards for his second TD gallop.

Neumann, one of Louisiana's better prep backs, smashed off tackle in the first quarter on a 43-yard run to paydirt.

Rolling Fork ended the scoring in the first half when Phillip Thomas threw a pass to Uzzle for 20 yards and Joe Warbington ran the extra point.

Neumann opened the scoring in the third period with a 35-yard gallop and Jerry Fairbanks converted.

Tallulah's last touchdown came when Carl Williamson took a pitchout and scooted around left end for 20 yards.

Larry Wilson climaxed the game for Rolling Fork in the third period when he took a Tallulah kickoff and returned it 82 yards for the touchdown.

FOR QUARTERBACKS

'Red' Grange Will Speak At Tallulah

TALLULAH,La. (Special) —The Tallulah Quarterback Club, strong supporters of the Tallulah High Trojans' football team, will hold its first big meeting Monday night at the new Elementary School Cafeteria and Auditorium beginning at 7 o'clock.

The club has secured Harold "Red" Grange, the famous Galloping Ghost of University of Illinois, who later played professional football with the Chicago Bears, as their guest speaker.

Grange is now a sports commentator and can be heard during the football season giving a description during time outs in the Sunday professional game, and during the offseason he runs his insurance business in Miami, Fla.

Grange is a much sought after speaker and the Tallulah Quarterbacks are very fortunate to secure him as their speaker. It is understood here that he has a definite program of his own and afterwards holds a question and answer period.

The local club has sent invitations to all past speakers at the club to attend, as well as sports editors and TV sportscasters in this area.

Only members of the club are entitled to tickets to the banquet, but the public is invited to the program which will be held in the air-conditioned auditorium immediately after the banquet. The club's guest will attend the banquet also.

This is Grange's first appearance in this part of the country and a large crowd is expected to attend.

BRAVES, 6-0

Burdett Stops Cards On 3 Hits

MILWAUKEE (AP)—After failing twice in the quest for his 17th victory, Milwaukee's Lew Burdette grabbed it Friday night by stopping the St. Louis Cardinals on three hits while Hank Aaron's three-run homer led the National League-leading Braves to a 6-0; victory.

The Braves boosted their hold on first to 7½ games and reduced their magic number to six when the second-place Pirates were defeated.

The Cardinals were never able to initiate even a mild threat against the Milwaukee right-hander as he fanned five and didn't give up a walk in keeping alive hopes for a 20-victory season. He has 10 defeats.

All three of the Cardinal hits were singles by Ken Boyer, Bobby Gene Smith and Irv Noren leading off in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings respectively. A doubleplay removed Boyer and Noren was out stealing.

Boyer didn't get the first St. Louis hit until after Burdette had retired in order the first 12 Cardinals he faced, striking out three of the first six going to the plate.

Turley Shuts Out Chisox For 21st

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — Bob Turley became the first New York Yankee pitcher to win 21 games since 1951 when he blanked the Chicago White Sox 5-0 Friday night on four hits before a crowd of 24,892.

The victory reduced the Yankee magic number to three. Any combination of three Yankee triumphs and three White Sox losses would assure the perennial champions of their ninth flag in the last 10 years. A triumph over Chicago Saturday would clinch a tie for the Bombers.

Turley was never in serious difficulty as he gained his sixth shutout of the season and became the first Yankee to win 21 since Eddie Lopat and Vic Raschi shared similar honors seven years ago.

Giants Sweep Two Contests From Phillies

PHILDELPHIA (AP) — Jim Davenport led the San Francisco hitting attack with seven hits, including two homers, as the Giants defeated Phildelphia 5-2 in the first game of a doubleheader on splendid relief work by Al Worthington, then clobbered the Phillies 19-2 with a 17-hit barrage in the second.

Richie Ashburn of the Phils, with five hits in eight times at bat, took over the National League batting lead with an average of .339. The Giants total in the second game was a season's record.

A lovely party honoring Miss Martha Hatchell prior to her marriage this Saturday night was a luncheon in the W. J. Riley home. Hostesses for this occasion were Mrs. Riley and her daughter Miss Polly Riley.

Colorful arrangements of zinnias were placed throughout the living room, dining room and den. A congenial group of mothers and daughters were invited to enjoy this delicious meal. Red zinnias in a silver container centered the table in the living room at which the following mothers were seated: Mrs. W. R. Hatchell, Mrs. John Kelso, Mrs. L. E. Ducote, Mrs. A. J. McGinn, Mrs. Louis L. Peters, Mrs. E. J. Seymour, and Mrs. Riley. In the dining room where a yellow color scheme was used, placecards held the names of the daughters: Miss Hatchell, Mrs. W. L. Yancey, Jr., Mrs. Jerry McWilliams, Miss Diane Ducote, Mrs. Rudolph Becker, Mrs. E. J. Seymour, Jr., and Miss Riley.

The honoree was presented with a lovely gift of china in her chosen pattern by the hostesses.

'Joy Joins The PTA' A Skit Given By PTA

An estimated 150 parents attended the first meeting of the Highland Elementary School Parent - Teacher Association for the 1958-59 school year Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. in the school cafetorium.

Highlight of the meeting was the hilarious skit "Joy Joins the PTA" a thought - provoking story of a mother of five children who did not have time to take part in school activities and considered PTA only as a "group of gossipy women." The leading role was vividly enacted by Mrs. James Nelson, ably supported by Mrs. Fairell Ketchell, Mrs. H. V. Pendery, Mrs. H. W. Haynes, Miss Billy Johnson, Mrs. C. R. Bedgood, Kay Armstrong, Ronnie Evans, Lester Owens and Nancy Jordan. The skit was presented by the program committee, chairman Mrs. J. W. Roberson.

Purpose of the program was to stress the vital importance of PTA in the home as well as in the school by conducting projects to raise money to be used in purchasing many aids not furnished by the school system for better education of our children.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. A. R. Nix, PTA president, who told the assemblage that this year's theme of the Highland program would be "The Community." The next meeting, "Dad's Night," will be held October 14. The program will be entitled "Education in Our Community."

Chairman of the various committees gave their reports of progress, and many suggestions were made as to how money might be raised to carry out the PTA project. Mrs. H. B. McClendon, school principal, was asked to outline the most pressing needs for the school and for the children.

Plans were made for study groups to be conducted for each age bracket with the aim of finding and solving the problems of that particular group of children. All mothers were urged to take part in this activity.

Delegates for the fall district meeting were elected. They were Mrs. James Greene and Mrs. James Hall who will be accompanied by Mrs. A. R. Nix, PTA president.

Mrs. McClendon reported that school will begin at 8:10 a.m. this year rather than at 8:15 previously, and urged that all parents see that their children arrive at school on time.

Next were introduced the teachers, five of whom are new. All were warmly welcomed and presented with corsages by Mrs. Herbert Milford, chairman of the flower committee, and Mrs. James Hall of the hospitality committee.

Room count was won by Mrs. Ralph Reed's first - grade room, which was given the $3.00 prize.

A nursery will be provided for both day and night meeting for the convenience of parents having small children.

The meeting ended with refreshments and an opportunity to get acquainted for added enjoyment.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Consult Speech Therapist For Speech Defects

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. J. M. — Because of the way this boy of three is talking (so that he cannot be understood by anyone but his mother) and is reversing his words, I would by all means take him to a speech therapist and determine how he can be helped. You'll find these (i not listed in the telephone directory) connected with universities or colleges or perhaps with the public schools. This is a time to act — not bewail his poor speech.

Mrs. E. J. G. — At about seven to eight years of age children do have a tendency to become acquisitive and pick up what does not belong to them. BUT, the way this is handled by the parents makes the difference between ending or continuing this bad habit. It isn't enough to deplore it and say, "The child will outgrow it," — her own experiences should hasten that end.

Because the parents KNOW the child is stealing they should not ask her and thus invite a lie. Better to say, "I know this doesn't belong to you, where did you get it?"

Then they can march the child right back to the rightful owner and have her return the object and apologize for taking it. This is severely humiliating to the child, but better this humiliation now than future heartaches because she had discovered she can "get away" with her stealing.

Perhaps the child needs an allowance each week. She may need more possessions that are her very own to use as she pleases. In addition to knowing how to treat such behavior the parents should know what motivates it. I shall be glad to send them a leaflet on, ""hy Children Steal" if they will send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for it.

Mrs. C. G. — It is pretty obvious that your boy needs companions of his own age who will enjoy him. Now he is thrust into association with children of seven and eight who get tired of him and so motivate him to wail, "No one like me."

He'll be liked by children of three and four and those are the ones you should cultivate, going out of your way to find children if no' on your immediate street, then on adjacent streets.

Nursery School is another solution but not enough for the boy, and if there are no children of his own age nearby, he would be lonesome and unhappy. Don't blame this on the coming of the new baby — it has really no relation to his behavior.

Becky White Celebrates Her Birthday

Classmates and other friends joined in making Becky White's birthday a happy affair in Mer Rouge.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. White Jr., Becky's parents, had her party at their country home.

A bubble gum hunt was an enjoyable game. Libby Cox was the winner. The ever popular fish pond was another highlight of the party.

A beautifully embossed birthday cake was served with iced drinks to Penny and Susan Carter, Bea and Frances Sots, Gil and Rives White, Maxine and Lance Broadnax, George Sims, Lester Braddock, Libby Cox, Lynn Clark, Jo Lynn and Douna Margaret White.

One Can Live 40 Days Without Solid Food

Only one thing is more vital to human life than sleep and that is air. A man can live almost 40 days without solid food, some seven days without food or water, but only about five without sleep. And the quality of sleep is as important as the quantity. It should be deep and restful — the kind you get on a modern, comfort-engineered mattress and spring.

Third see to it that your bed is comfortable and cool.

Keeping heat out is accomplished simply enough through the use of Venetian blinds, double shades, or drapes. The room should be darkened during the day and the windows closed.

Moving out heat involves, most efficiently and air conditioner. Many practical ones are now available. Less expensive are window fans that pull warm air out of the room.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Make The Best Of A Bad Situation If Unavoidable

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a boy in my middle teens who was brought up in a very strict home. My father was a religious fanatic and hardly ever left the house except to go to work or to church. We were all scared to death of him, including my mother.

Last year Dad died. Mother wore black for two weeks then she began to act like a person who'd been let out of jail. At present she's involved with Dad's older brother who is divorced. He is a lot older than my mother and has had one affair after another. She knows all about it.

The minister of our church gave several sermons on the subject so she doesn't go to church anymore. What can I do? I'm ashamed to face my friends. Everyone in town must be talking about my mother. Please help me. — Y.F.

Guilt is personal and it doesn't rub off on relatives. There's nothing you can do about your mother's behavior except to try to understand what makes her carry on in this shameful way. Understanding may make it less painful, although it in no way excuses her.

Now that the "jailer" (your father) is no longer around, the "prisoner" (your mother) has gone wild with the joys of newfound freedom. The only thing you can do is hope she straightens out before she ruins her life. Hold your head high and make no apologies for her. Behave in a way that will reflect favorably on her — although she's acting like a fool, poor thing.

Dear Ann: My cousin and his wife are creating a problem. Recently my husband and I moved to this city. We cultivated some stimulating and interesting friends.

My cousin and his wife have lived here all their lives. They are good people, but dullards who contribute nothing to a group. To be blunt, they don't fit in. Last evening these relatives dropped in uninvited. After a while I was forced to suggest they leave as we were expecting some important guests. They resented it deeply and left with an injured look.

I fear I was not very tactful in this instance and my husband is annoyed with me. But how do you tell people "tactfully" to leave your home? — SNOB?????

Your husband will probably be annoyed with me, too because I have no sympathy for people who drop in uninvited. You were right to refuse to be trapped in your own home.

At the same time, however, you were not only tactless but brutal. The word "important" should not have been used. This was indeed snobbish and unbecoming. It would have been far better had you asked to be excused to shower and dress for a previous engagement.

Dear Ann: I've known a certain woman 20 years and she has many fine qualities which I admire. But she's such a liar it makes me wonder who she thinks she's kidding.

She lies particularly about prices. I know she lies because I've been with her when she bought some of these things she fibs about and apparently she forgets.

What makes people like this? Except for her tall tales she's a perfectly charming woman. — AGATHA

Dear Agatha: Many people exaggerate to make the story more interesting, or the case stronger. This is a human weakness but anyone who manufactures lies out of whole cloth has a sick personality. Such people are in a state of fantasy part of the time — strictly out of this world. Admire her for the good qualities and take the rest of it with a grain of salt.

Consult Speech Therapist For Speech Defects

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. J. M. — Because of the way this boy of three is talking (so that he cannot be understood by anyone but his mother) and is reversing his words, I would by all means take him to a speech therapist and determine how he can be helped. You'll find these (if not listed in the telephone directory) connected with universities or colleges or perhaps with the public schools. This is a time to act — not bewail his poor speech.

Mrs. E. J. G. — At about seven to eight years of age children do have a tendency to become acquisitive and pick up what does not belong to them. BUT, the way this is handled by the parents makes the difference between ending or continuing this bad habit. It isn't enough to deplore it and say, "The child will outgrow it," — her own experiences should hasten that end.

Because the parents KNOW the child is stealing they should not ask her and thus invite a lie. Better to say, "I know this doesn't belong to you, where did you get it?"

Then they can march the child right back to the rightful owner and have her return the object and apologize for taking it. This is severely humiliating to the child, but better this humiliation now than future heartaches because she had discovered she can "get away" with her stealing.

Perhaps the child needs an allowance each week. She may need more possessions that are her very own to use as she pleases.

In addition to knowing how to treat such behavior the parents should know what motivates it. I shall be glad to send them a leaflet on, ""hy Children Steal" if they will send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for it.

Mrs. C. G. — It is pretty obvious that your boy needs companions of his own age who will enjoy him. Now he is thrust into association with children of seven and eight who get tired of him and so motivate him to wail, "No one like me."

He'll be liked by children of three and four and those are the ones you should cultivate, going out of your way to find children if no on your immediate street, then on adjacent streets.

Nursery School is another solution but not enough for the boy, and if there are no children of his own age nearby, he would be lonesome and unhappy. Don't blame this on the coming of the new baby — it has really no relation to his behavior.

AIR FORCE GENERAL

Lemay Sets New Non-Stop Record

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Air Force Gen. Curtis Lemay, chief of the nation's bomber forces, piloted a giant jet-powered KC-135 Stratotanker Friday to a new unofficial non-stop flight record from Japan to Washington.

The cigar-smoking head of the Strategic Air Command covered the 7,100-mile distance in 12 hours and 28 minutes, chopping one hour and seven minutes from the old mark.

Lemay and his crew took off from Japan's Yokota Air Base at 6 56 p.m. EDT Thursday and were clocked in over Washington at 7:24 a.m. EDT Friday. The plane, with Lemay at the controls, landed eight minutes later at Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland.

Because of time zone changes and crossing of the International Dateline, Lemay theoretically reached Washington 32 minutes before he left Tokyo. He took off at 7:56 a.m. Friday, Tokyo time, and arrived at 7:24 a.m., Eastern Daylight Time.

The Air Force vice chief of staff last November was at the controls of a stratotanker which sped 6,325 miles from Westover, Mass., Air Force Base to Buenos Aires, Argentina, in 13 hours, 2 minutes, 51 seconds.

He returned from Buenos Aires to Washington—5,024 miles — two days later in 11 hours, 5 minutes and 0.8 seconds.

Lemay's Tokyo - Washington flight upset the 13 hours and 35 minutes record set by Brig. Gen. William E. Eubanks Jr. over a similar but shorter route last April.

Lemay's crew members were Maj. L. J. Tacker of New York, Capt. Edward Schickling of Plainfield, N J., Maj. Ernest Campbell (hometown not available) and Lt. Meredith Sutton of Kansas City.

The new record will remain unofficial because the plane was not equipped with devices requi or an official timing.

Lemay, who had been in the Far East for conferences on the Formosa Strait crisis and inspection of Far East bases, originally had been scheduled for a comparatively leisurely trip home.

However, weather conditions gave him a favorable tail wind all the way and he decided to make the non-stop trip instead of stopping, as planned, at Alaska and on the West Coast.

'Soft' Living Is Blamed For Ailments

A "soft" civilization with innumerable gadgets was blamed for depriving American children of badly needed bodily manipulation last night by Dr. Ralph Barstow here.

Speaking before the postgraduate study conference sponsored by the Optometric Extension Program Foundation, Dr. Barstow pointed to Russia's lead in the world of science as a result of a lack of pampering of her children. "With 80 per cent of the teaching in the school system being through the visual pathway and since vision is a total bodily process, today's youngsters have become visually disadvantaged as a result of our culture," Dr. Barstow declared.

Means of aiding the child in the learning process through special lenses were discussed by Dr. Barstow as a method of remedying the Russian lead in scientific fields. Members of the Northeast Louisiana Optometric Society who are members of the extension program heard his speech. Dr. N. L. Moncrief was chairman of the arrangements for the meeting.

Ex-New York Mayor Brands Story A Lie

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—William O'Dwyer, former New York Mayor, branded as untrue Friday a story in a local newspaper saying he had helped "many prominent Communist personalities" to obtain Mexican residence.

O'Dwyer, who was U. S. Ambassador to Mexico and is now a Mexico City lawyer, told newsmen: "It is a lie. . .and it is the lousiest thing that's ever been done to me.

"I know 50,000 ways to make money and the last thing I would ever do is to take money from a Communist. I would not offend the hospitality shown me by Mexico for anything. I've got too much at stake here. Futhermore, I've never attempted to get residence papers for anybody."

O'Dwyer said he wanted to make it perfectly clear to Mexican and U. S. officials and citizens that he had never in any way, served Communist clients. He said he had asked the U. S. Embassy to investigate the allegation made by the newspaper to clear the record.

Another Mexico City daily reported that O'Dwyer had taken part in efforts to halt the deportation of American Bernard Blasenheim, one of nine alleged Communist agitators expelled from the country recently following Communist-supported student-labor riots here.

O'Dwyer said he was approached by a New York lawyer and asked to look into the Blasenheim case but that his firm did not touch it when it learned the nature of the charges against Blasenheim.

The former ambassador said he called on Mexican Attorney General Jose Aguilar y Maya to deny the newspapers' assertion that he had been retained by Blasenheim.

The ship, The Lusitania, was sunk by a German submarine in 1915. It was a British liner, but carried 124 Americans.

Fisher Takes Responsibility For Break - Up

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Singer Eddie Fisher said Friday he accepted "full responsibility" for the failure of his marriage to pert Debbie Reynolds, and gave no hope for a reconciliation.

"The breakup was inevitable," the curly - haired TV star announced.

"We've been having problems for a long time. Our marriage would have come to an end even if I had never known Elizabeth Taylor."

He refused to comment about a possible divorce action, but made it clear that the couple's three-year marriage was washed up.

"Debbie and I tried very hard to make our marriage work. We've been having problems for a long time. Debbie especially has done everything possible to make our marriage succeed. I alone accept full responsibility for its failure," Fisher said.

Suffering from a blood disease (mononucleosis) and running a 102 degree temperature, the singer also declined to talk about his 10-day date-binge in New York with the widow of his close friend, Mike Todd.

Industrial Hike Cited By Board

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Reserve Board said Friday a sharp rise in industrial production during August indicated the nation's economy was rapidly emerging from the depths of a year-long recession.

The board's report was the most hopeful issued by any federal agency since the recession began. It noted a widespread business pickup since last spring.

The board said that "rapid recovery in economic activity continued in August" highlighted by a 2 per cent increase in factory and mine output.

The August report also showed:

—An increase in new construction, mainly because of improvements in new home building.

— Higher employment among non-agricultural workers.

—A 1 per cent hike in retail sales, with department store receipts 3 per cent above the previous high of August 1957.

By the end of August, the board said, "industrial production had recovered more than one half the decline suffered during the recession.

Other economic developments:

The Labor Department reported that insured unemployment dropped to an eight-month low of 2,085,900 during the week ended Aug. 30. This was 96,400 below the previous week. Meantime, new unemployment claims dropped by 12,200 to 262,900 in the week ended Sept. 6.

The New Orleans Port Authority has voted to postpone any raises until Jan. 1.

OF SUPREME COURT

Miss. Senators Slap Decision

WASHINGTON (Special) —Mississippi Senators James O. Eastland and John Stennis charged Friday that the Supreme Court decision ordering immediate integration in Little Rock threatens to undermine the entire educational system in the South.

Eastland said the loss of educational opportunity for both races "is now squarely laid on the shoulders of the nine willful men" who compose the Supreme Court.

In a separate statement, Stennis asserted that the court had reversed its own 1954 decision to allow local officials to set the pace for desegregation.

Eastland was enroute to Mississippi from the Dominican Republic, while Stennis was touring U. S. Embassies in Europe. Both men issued statements through their Washington offices.

Eastland said the ruling "heedlessly compounded the folly inherent in the original integration decision." he added:

"Of one thing I am more confident today than ever before: The people are going to be the final arbiters and rulers of both the court and Congress.

The ruling has hastened the day when these usurpers will find that the American people will not accept the thesis that nine mortal men, appointed for life, subject to no will but their own, can become a perpetual constitutional convention amending the document at will, repealing it at will, and ignoring it at will—until they become the irresponsible overlords and masters of the destinies of 165 million people."

The Senator said that such a prospect "is a verdict that history will not write."

Eastland, like Stennis, called attention to the Supreme Court's reversal of the two and one-half year integration delay granted the Little Rock School Board earlier by District Judge Harry J. Lemley.

As a result of the reversal, Eastland said, "it is now evident how false was the promise that local district court judges would be given the authority and power to supervise local situations.

"Little Rock is now the victim of judicial tyranny at its worst."

Stennis said the Supreme Court's ruling order for immediate integration in the Arkansas High School reaffirms the court's "determination to 'rule or ruin' the Southern Public Schools.

"In order to reach the result announced today," he said, "the court reversed its own school decision rendered in 1954 when it decreed that the time and manner of integration would be left to the judgement of the local school authorities and district judges.

"This safeguard has now been thrown out. It is now clear that the court will not hesitate to substitute its own prejudices for the judgement of responsible local officials of the School Board, community, state and federal judges sitting in the district."

Stenis, who with James O. Eastland (D) Miss., and other Southern Senators are fighting to limit the jurisdiction of Supreme Court in several types of cases, charged that the tribunal "has adopted the policy of intergration at bayonet point."

He added that the court is "following a course that can accomplish nothing."

FAMOUS AUTHOR

Robert Service Dies In France

LANCIEUX, France (UPI)—Robert W. Service, the Lancashire lad who sang of the frozen Yukon in galloping verse and struck poet's gold with such characters as "Dangerous Dan McGrew" and "The Lady That's Known as Lou," died Thursday night at 84.

He had been suffering from a weak heart for more than two years and had had a heart attack Thursday. A doctor called to his villa, Corps de Garde, in this little North Breton resort, could not save him. His wife was at his bedside.

Despite his weakened heart, nothing in his condition had caused his family immediate worry during the last few weeks. His children had left for home only three days ago. His gray-haired, jaunty figure was a familiar sight in the woods, where he took long walks daily.

As he did every year, he came here last May from Monaco, where he spent the winter months. His rough, tough, gold-dust ballads had won him riches as well as world fame. Because of his charity, the Lancieux populace called him "our benefactor."

Service was born in Preston, in the English midlands county of Lancashire, on Jan. 16, 1876, the son of a bank manager. He went to the University of Glasgow and, at the age of 20, sailed for Canada. He crossed the continent to Alaska and the Yukon of the gold rush, bar-room brawls, and painted women. He still held Canadian nationality at death, although he became a world traveler and lived his final years in France.

His favorite word was "virile." A story or verse had to have that quality to attract him. "The only society I like," he said, "is that which is rough and tough—and the tougher the better. That's where you get down to bedrock and meet human people."

Service estimated that one bit of verse, "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," alone brought him $500,000. It opened with these lines:

"A bunch of the boys were whooping it up in the Malamute saloon.

"The kid that handles the music box was hitting a rag-time rune."

And its ending bore the gripping Service trademark:

"Then I ducked my head, and the lights went out, and two guns blazed in the dark.

"And a woman screamed and the lights went up, and two men lay stiff and stark.

"Pitched on his head and pumped full of lead was Dangerous Dan McGrew.

Report Polio Cases Increase In America

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Public Health Service Friday reported 317 cases of polio for the week ended Sept. 6, an increase of 31 over the previous week. About half the cases — 153 — were paralytic.

During the comparable week of 1957, a total of 241 cases were reported, or 56 less than this year.

Despite the week's increase, the number of polio cases so far this year still is sharply below 1957. The health service reported 2,543 cases for the current season, compared with 4,120 last year.

In recent weeks, public health officials have pleaded with the public to take full advantage of the Salk anti-polio vaccine. They said some 40 million people throughout the country have failed to get its full protection.

The health service said there was a substantial increase during the week in the number of cases reported in the South Atlantic, east South Central and Pacific states, and a slight increase in Middle Atlantic and west South Central states.

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—William O'Dwyer, former New York Mayor, branded as untrue Friday a story in a local newspaper saying he had helped "many prominent Communist personalities" to obtain Mexican residence.

O'Dwyer, who was U. S. Ambassador to Mexico and is now a Mexico City lawyer, told newsmen: "It is a lie. . .and it is the lousiest thing that's ever been done to me.

"I know 50,000 ways to make money and the last thing I would ever do is to take money from a Communist. I would not offend the hospitality shown me by Mexico for anything. I've got too much at stake here. Futhermore, I've never attempted to get residence papers for anybody."

O'Dwyer said he wanted to make it perfectly clear to Mexican and U. S. officials and citizens that he had never in any way, served Communist clients. He said he had asked the U. S. Embassy to investigate the allegation made by the newspaper to clear the record.

Another Mexico City daily reported that O'Dwyer had taken part in efforts to halt the deportation of American Bernard Blasenheim, one of nine alleged Communist agitators expelled from the country recently following Communist-supported student-labor riots here.

O'Dwyer said he was approached by a New York lawyer and asked to look into the Blasenheim case but that his firm did not touch it when it learned the nature of the charges against Blasenheim.

The former ambassador said he called on Mexican Attorney General Jose Aguilar y Maya to deny the newspapers' assertion that he had been retained by Blasenheim.

Finance Building Group Selected On School Board

Recently elected president of the Ouachita Parish School Board, C. G. Wall Jr. announced the appointment of a new executive finance building committee yesterday.

Comprising the new committee are Dr. B. E. Spencer of Ward 1, chairman; Hugh Balfour of ward 5, vice-chairman; C. E. Buckley of ward 3, Chester Holloway of ward 7, Harry Whellis of ward 8 and M. H. Head of ward 9.

Wall, who has served on the school board since January, 1947, stated that one of the primary aims of the new finance committee is to get ahead with plans and preparations for a Sterlington high school.

Fisher Takes Responsibility For Break - Up

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Singer Eddie Fisher said Friday he accepted "full responsibility" for the failure of his marriage to pert Debbie Reynolds, and gave no hope for a reconciliation.

"The breakup was inevitable," the curly - haired TV star announced.

"We've been having problems for a long time. Our marriage would have come to an end even if I had never known Elizabeth Taylor."

He refused to comment about a possible divorce action, but made it clear that the couple's three-year marriage was washed up.

"Debbie and I tried very hard to make our marriage work. We've been having problems for a long time. Debbie especially has done everything possible to make our marriage succeed. I alone accept full responsibility for its failure," Fisher said.

Suffering from a blood disease (mononucleosis) and running a 102 degree temperature, the singer also declined to talk about his 10-day date-binge in New York with the widow of his close friend, Mike Todd.

Industrial Hike Cited By Board

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Reserve Board said Friday a sharp rise in industrial production during August indicated the nation's economy was rapidly emerging from the depths of a year-long recession.

The board's report was the most hopeful issued by any federal agency since the recession began. It noted a widespread business pickup since last spring.

The board said that "rapid recovery in economic activity continued in August" highlighted by a 2 per cent increase in factory and mine output.

The August report also showed:

—An increase in new construction, mainly because of improvements in new home building.

— Higher employment among non-agricultural workers.

—A 1 per cent hike in retail sales, with department store receipts 3 per cent above the previous high of August 1957.

By the end of August, the board said, "industrial production had recovered more than one half the decline suffered during the recession.

Other economic developments:

The Labor Department reported that insured unemployment dropped to an eight-month low of 2,035,900 during the week ended Aug. 30. This was 96,400 below the previous week. Meantime, new unemployment claims dropped by 12,200 to 262,900 in the week ended Sept. 6.

Capital City Port Board May Delay Rate Hike

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The greater Baton Rouge Port Commission is expected to delay dock rate increases until New Orleans acts.

Officials said the items to be discussed at Monday's meeting include the question of suspending until further notice proposed wharfage hikes vetoed by the commission several months ago.

The New Orleans Port Authority has voted to postpone any raises until Jan. 1.

Report Polio Cases Increase In America

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Public Health Service Friday reported 317 cases of polio for the week ended Sept. 6, an increase of 31 over the previous week. About half the cases — 153 — were paralytic.

During the comparable week of 1957, a total of 241 cases were reported, or 56 less than this year.

Despite the week's increase, the number of polio cases so far this year still is sharply below 1957. The health service reported 2,543 cases for the current season, compared with 4,120 last year.

In recent weeks, public health officials have pleaded with the public to take full advantage of the Salk anti-polio vaccine. They said some 40 million people throughout the country have failed to get its full protection.

The health service said there was a substantial increase during the week in the number of cases reported in the South Atlantic, east South Central and Pacific states, and a slight increase in Middle Atlantic and west South Central states.

Officer Suffers Heart Seizure; Is Hospitalized

West Monroe Police Lt. Dave Johnson yesterday suffered a heart attack while fishing alone on Wall's lake.

Friends said Johnson felt the attack coming and tied himself in his boat, started the motor and went back to his car. After driving home alone, he was rushed to the St. Francis Hospital by police cruiser where he was given immediately oxygen and shots to stimulate his heart.

Attendants at the hospital report that he is "resting well." No visitors were being allowed last night.

DRUG MARKETED

BLOOMFIELD, N. J. (UPI) — Schering Corp. is marketing a drug which it said combines a tranquilizer for treatment of mental stress and steroid type of drug for relief from asthmatic or arthritic diseases.

The ship, The Lusitania, was sunk by a German submarine in 1915. It was a British liner, but carried 124 Americans.

12 Angola Prisoners Gain Freedom

ST. FRANCISVILLE, La. (AP) —Angola's gates swung open Friday for a dozen men serving state penitentiary terms under a section of the state narcotics law knocked out by the Louisiana Supreme Court.

Dist. Judge Woodrow Overton ordered the 12 released when it was determined they had no other charges pending. All were convicted from New Orleans.

Three more men were held because of detainers for other crimes. Two of the 18 who sought release under the high court ruling must await a check of their records by the attorney general's office.

The 18th convict, Louisiana Harris, had his seven year term for possession of a hypodermic needle voided, but still must serve 10 years for possession of narcotics.

The state Supreme Court overturned conviction of Dale Birdsell, Baton Rouge segregationist publisher, for possession of a hypodermic needle and ruled that section of state law prohibiting possession of hypodemic needles was unconstitutional.

Under the high court decision, Judge Overton said he had no course but to free the man.

The 12 men ordered released, and their sentences, were:

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. 9-13

12 Angola Prisoners Gain Freedom

ST. FRANCISVILLE, La. (AP) —Angola's gates swung open Friday for a dozen men serving state penitentiary terms under a section of the state narcotics law knocked out by the Louisiana Supreme Court.

Dist. Judge Woodrow Overton ordered the 12 released when it was determined they had no other charges pending. All were convicted from New Orleans.

Three more men were held because of detainers for other crimes. Two of the 18 who sought release under the high court ruling must await a check of their records by the attorney general's office.

The 18th convict, Louisiana Harris, had his seven year term for possession of a hypodermic needle voided, but still must serve 10 years for possession of narcotics.

The state Supreme Court overturned conviction of Dale Birdsell, Baton Rouge segregationist publisher, for possession of a hypodermic needle and ruled that section of state law prohibiting possession of hypodemic needles was unconstitutional.

Under the high court decision, Judge Overton said he had no course but to free the man.

The 12 men ordered released, and their sentences, were:

Robert Blakeslee, three years; Jefferson Braham, three years; Ollie Williams, 10 years; Herbert Sawyer, five years; Wilson Ruiz, five years; Charles Layman, five years; Donald Stanley, five years; Anthony Lam, five years; Joseph Foster, five years; Alvin Meade, five years; Charles Kennedy, 2½ years; and John Morris Jr., five years.

ARRESTED AS SPY

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Soccer trainer Berhard Zgol has been arrested and charged with spying for American intelligence agents during a stay in Frankfurt, Germany, last year, the Polish news agency Pap said today.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. 9-13

WOOL LETTER

Courtesy of Merrill, Lynch Pierce, Fenner & Smith

Prices opened very steady, but at the higher levels trade hedge selling appeared and thereafter prices held in a narrow range with locals and commission houses modest buyers.

Volume of trading was relatively light with many traders reluctant to take positions prior to the weekend.

It was unofficially reported that Argentina has taken further steps to make their wool prices more competitive with the world price level.

There were no Australian auctions held yesterday, but South Africa reported wool prices were in seller's favor with 96 per cent of the offerings sold.

It is very difficult to determine what proportion of the offerings the South African wool board buys in order to stabilize prices as purchases by the wool board are included, for example, in the 96 per cent figure.

General expectation as to Australian prices next week appeared to be steady to perhaps fractionally higher.

London futures showed little net change for the day with trading moderately light.

COTTON LETTER

Courtesy of Merrill, Lynch Pierce, Fenner & Smith

During the morning prices showed small fluctuations with a Memphis spot house a modest seller of the spot month. However, commission house and New Orleans buying, reportedly influenced by the fact that spot cotton is currently selling under the loan level, rallied the market towards the close.

Certificated stocks increased over 1,000 bales and now total 41,665 bales. As of Sept. 5, unfixed call sales increased to 173,900, an increase of 31,000 over the previous week but substantially below the 501,600 last year.

This is the third successive week in which unfixed call sales have risen. The gray goods market continued quiet with prices unchanged.

Scattered showers were reported throughout most of the belt. Exports yesterday were 17,736 bales which brings the season's total to 391,493 vs. 404,553 a year ago.

Stocks Poke Into Highs; Give Away

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks poked briefly into all - time high ground Friday before giving way to the usual weekend influences.

The industrial average in early calculations topped the 521.05 all-time record set April 6, 1956 but later profit-taking pared gains sufficiently to put the average off a point on the day.

It was normal week-end evening up rather than concern with tightening money conditions that cut short the market's advance, according to the Wall Street concensus.

The market appeared virtually to ignore tighter money even though it hit directly at stock purchasers when Chase Manhattan took the lead in upping rates for brother's loans. The possibility of a strike in the auto industry apparently was ignored also.

There were losses of a point or so in some of the recent favorites U. S. Steel, National and Republic; American Telephone, Zenith, and oils softened on import worries.

However, there was a long list of upside features—issues such as Firestone Tire up 2½; Commercial Credit up 2½; First National Stores up 2½ International Paper, Lily Tulip Cup, International Nickel, Cannon ills, Hilton Hotels, Hussman Refrigerator, National Gypsum, General Realty, up a point or more.

Inland featured in the steels with a gain of 2 points, counter to the usual run of losses which extended past a point in U. S. Steel and National. The pharmaceutical generally continued in favor. Pfizer rose 1½, Spencer Chemical, Nopco, Shering added around a point but Warner Lambert fell over 2 points. Du Pont and Union Carbide improved over a point in the chemicals.

Rails were just a bit easier on balance as Chesapeake & Ohio and Atlantic Coast Line lost nearly a point each.

Trading was active but below Thursday at 3,100,000 shares compared with 3,300,000.

Of a total of 1,228 issues traded, 554 were lower, 430 higher.

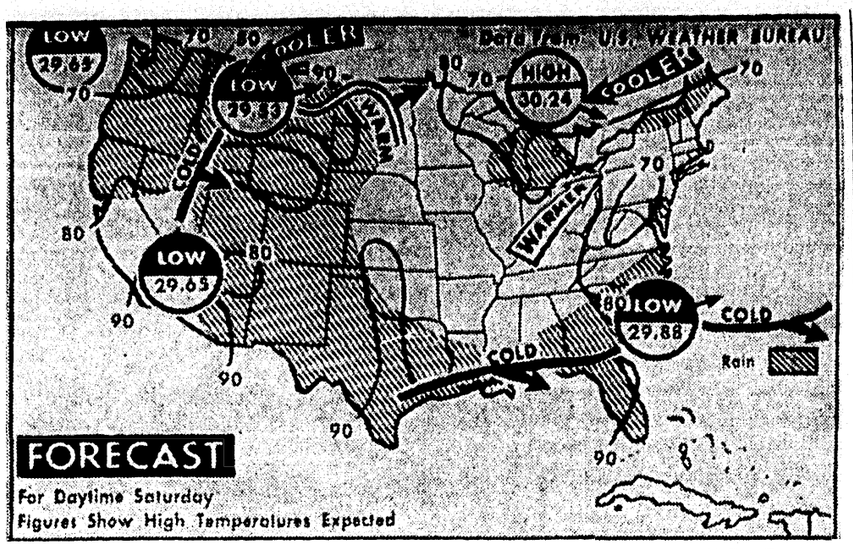
BUTTER & EGGS

CHICAGO (AP) — Butter receipts 449,000: prices unchanged; 93 score AA 60¼; 92 A 59¾; 90 B 59; 89 C 58¼; cars 90 B 59½; 89 C 58¾.

Eggs receipts 11,400; prices unchanged to 1 higher; 70 per cent or better grade A whites 54; mixed 51; mediums 43; standards 38; dirties 32; checks 31; current receipts unquoted.

PRODUCTION UP

NEW YORK (UPI) —The production of cellular plastics amounted to 31,500,000 pounds in 1957, up 97 per cent from 1956, and is expected to reach 50,250,000 pounds this year, according to Joseph R. Morton, newly elected chairman of the Cellular Plastics Division of the Society of the Plastics Industry, Inc.



WEATHER FORECAST — A warming trend is expected today from the central Plains eastward through Ohio Valley and into northeastern states, with little change elsewhere. Rain is expected in northwest quarter of U.S., Rockies, southern Plains, Gulf coast, over Georgia and the Carolinas, southern Lakes and northern Appalachians. (AP Wirephoto Map)

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—The Far East situation popped back into the grain futures market Friday as a major buying influence and prices moved ahead throughout the list.

None of the contracts finished at the day's highs, however. A spurt of profit-taking appeared in the final few minutes of trading and prices retreated slightly.

Traders said a good deal of the demand, which included major commission houses, was related to the Far East struggle and President Eisenhower's address to the nation Thursday night.

Rye at times had gains of as much as 3 cents a bushel and many other contracts were ahead by a cent or more at their best.

There also were reports that a good increase in flour sales was going through and that mill demand could be expected to increase.

At the close, wheat was ¼-⅞ cent a bushel higher, September $1.87⅜-¼; corn ¼-⅝ higher, September $1.23½-⅝; oats ⅜-½ higher, September 60¾; rye 1¾-2⅝ higher, September $1.31¼-½; soybeans ⅞-1⅛ higher, September $1.20⅛; lard 5 cents a hundred pounds lower to 12 cents higher, September $12.77. Cash c[illegible] moved up with the September future and attracted bids from 5½ to 6½ cents above the closing September quotation.

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — The butcher hog market topped at $21 again Friday with the market steady to 15 cents higher on a supply of 5,500 head, a little more liberal than most recent Friday offerings.

The $21 top was paid sparingly. It went for 150 head of uniform No. 1 grade in the 210-220 lb range. Buyers paid $20.65 - 20.85 for the mixed 1-2 grades scaling 200-230 lbs and $20.50-20.85 for 195-280 lb mixed 1-3 grades. Mixed grades of 180-195 pounders were $19.75-20.

Sows cleared at $17.50 - 20 and were steady to 25 cents higher.

Slaughter steers were slow with more than 20 loads offered earlier $5-8.

COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed 55 to 70 cents a bale higher in slow dealings Friday.

The expanding cotton harvest, slow conditions in the primary spot coton markets and in cotton textiles curtailed trading interest in futures. However, prices improved after a barely steady start as mill and New Orleans buying found offerings light.

Traders continued to even up holdings in nearby October futures in anticipation of first notice day on Sept. 24. Certificated cotton stocks again inched upward and currently total 41,471 bales.

Temperatures over a wide section of the cotton belt were cool which was considered unfavorable for cotton growth.

Courtesy of Merrill, Lynch Pierce, Fenner & Smith

Prices opened very steady, but at the higher levels trade hedge selling appeared and thereafter prices held in a narrow range with locals and commission houses modest buyers.

Volume of trading was relatively light with many traders reluctant to take positions prior to the weekend.

It was unofficially reported that Argentina has taken further steps to make their wool prices more competitive with the world price level.

There were no Australian auctions held yesterday, but South Africa reported wool prices were in seller's favor with 96 per cent of the offerings sold.

It is very difficult to determine what proportion of the offerings the South African wool board buys in order to stabilize prices as purchases by the wool board are included, for example, in the 96 per cent figure.

General expectation as to Australian prices next week appeared to be steady to perhaps fractionally higher.

London futures showed little net change for the day with trading moderately light.

COTTON LETTER

Courtesy of Merrill, Lynch Pierce, Fenner & Smith

During the morning prices showed small fluctuations with a Memphis spot house a modest seller of the spot month. However, commission house and New Orleans buying, reportedly influenced by the fact that spot cotton is currently selling under the loan level, rallied the market towards the close.

Certificated stocks increased over 1,000 bales and now total 41,665 bales. As of Sept. 5, unfixed call sales increased to 173,900, an increase of 31,000 over the previous week but substantially below the 501,600 last year.

This is the third successive week in which unfixed call sales have risen. The gray goods market continued quiet with prices unchanged.

Scattered showers were reported throughout most of the belt. Exports yesterday were 17,736 bales which brings the season's total to 391,493 vs. 404,553 a year ago.

Stocks Poke Into Highs; Give Away

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks poked briefly into all - time high ground Friday before giving way to the usual weekend influences.

The industrial average in early calculations topped the 521.05 all-time record set April 6, 1956 but later profit-taking pared gains sufficiently to put the average off a point on the day.

It was normal week-end evening up rather than concern with tightening money conditions that cut short the market's advance, according to the Wall Street concensus.

The market appeared virtually to ignore tighter money even though it hit directly at stock purchasers when Chase Manhattan took the lead in upping rates for brother's loans. The possibility of a strike in the auto industry apparently was ignored also.

There were losses of a point or so in some of the recent favorites U. S. Steel, National and Republic; American Telephone, Zenith, and oils softened on import worries.

However, there was a long list of upside features—issues such as Firestone Tire up 2½; Commercial Credit up 2½; First National Stores up 2½ International Paper, Lily Tulip Cup, International Nickel, Cannon ills, Hilton Hotels, Hussman Refrigerator, National Gypsum, General Realty, up a point or more.

Inland featured in the steels with a gain of 2 points, counter to the usual run of losses which extended past a point in U. S. Steel and National. The pharmaceutical generally continued in favor. Pfizer rose 1½, Spencer Chemical, Nopco, Shering added around a point but Warner Lambert fell over 2 points. Du Pont and Union Carbide improved over a point in the chemicals.

Rails were just a bit easier on balance as Chesapeake & Ohio and Atlantic Coast Line lost nearly a point each.

Utilities countered the general trend with an average gain, helped by Commonwealth Edison, up a point in response to a dividend boost, and Houston Lighting, up nearly 2 points. Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line fell nearly a point.

Trading was active but below Thursday at 3,100,000 shares compared with 3,300,000.

Of a total of 1,228 issues traded, 554 were lower, 430 higher.

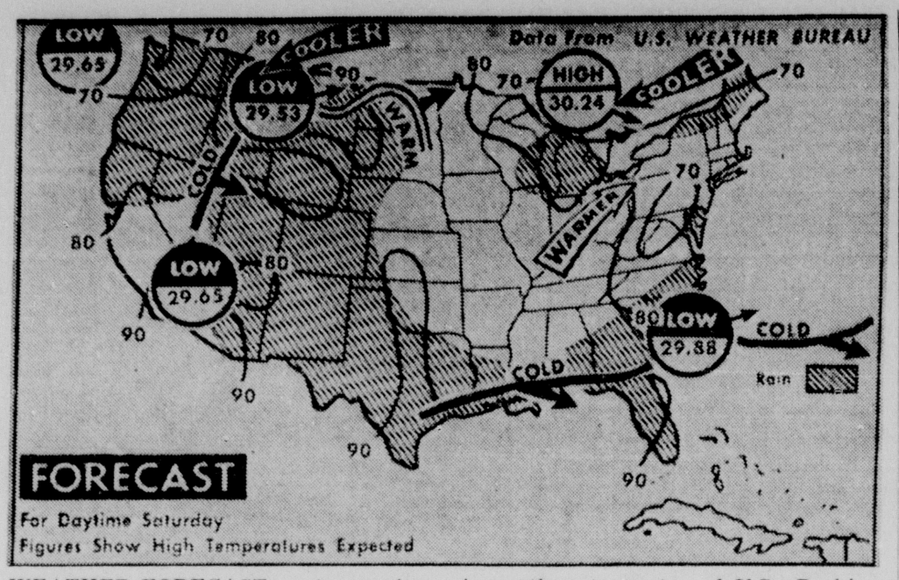
BUTTER & EGGS

CHICAGO (AP) — Butter receipts 449,000; prices unchanged; 93 score AA 60¼; 92 A 59¾; 90 B 59; 89 C 58¼; cars 90 B 59½; 89 C 58¾.

Eggs receipts 11,400; prices unchanged to 1 higher; 70 per cent or better grade A whites 54; mixed 51; mediums 43; standards 38; dirties 32; checks 31; current receipts unquoted.

PRODUCTION UP

NEW YORK (UPI) —The production of cellular plastics amounted to 31,500,000 pounds in 1957, up 97 per cent from 1956, and is expected to reach 50,250,000 pounds this year, according to Joseph R. Morton, newly elected chairman of the Cellular Plastics Division of the Society of the Plastics Industry, Inc.



WEATHER FORECAST — A warming trend is expected today from the central Plains eastward through Ohio Valley and into northeastern states, with little change elsewhere. Rain is expected in northwest quarter of U.S., Rockies, southern Plains, Gulf coast, over Georgia and the Carolinas, southern Lakes and northern Appalachians. (AP Wirephoto Map)

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—The Far East situation popped back into the grain futures market Friday as a major buying influence and prices moved ahead throughout the list.

None of the contracts finished at the day's highs, however. A spurt of profit-taking appeared in the final few minutes of trading and prices retreated slightly.

Traders said a good deal of the demand, which included major commission houses, was related to the Far East struggle and President Eisenhower's address to the nation Thursday night.

Rye at times had gains of as much as 3 cents a bushel and many other contracts were ahead by a cent or more at their best.

There also were reports that a good increase in flour sales was going through and that mill demand could be expected to increase.

At the close, wheat was ¼-⅞ cent a bushel higher, September $1.87⅜-¼; corn ¼-⅜ higher. September $1.23½-⅝; oats ⅜-½ higher, September 60⅜; rye 1¾-2⅜ higher, September $1.31¼-½; soybeans ⅞ - 1⅛ higher, September $1.20⅛; lard 5 cents a hundred pounds lower to 12 cents higher, September $12.77. Cash corn moved up with the September future and attracted bids from 5½ to 6½ cents above the closing September quotation.

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — The butcher hog market topped at $21 again Friday with the market steady to 15 cents higher on a supply of 5,500 head, a little more liberal than most recent Friday offerings.

The $21 top was paid sparingly. It went for 150 head of uniform No. 1 grade in the 210-220 lb range. Buyers paid $20.65 - 20.85 for the mixed 1-2 grades scaling 200-230 lbs and $20.50-20.85 for 195-280 lb mixed 1-3 grades. Mixed grades of 180-195 pounders were $19.75-20.

Sows cleared at $17.50 - 20 and were steady to 25 cents higher.

Slaughter steers were slow with more than 20 loads offered earlier in the week still unsold and sales too scant to test prices. A few choice grade, however, moved at $26-27.

Vealers were steady and bulls steady to weak. No heifers were offered. Vealers were $29-32 for good grade and bulls $21.50-24 for utility and commercial.

Good to low choice spring slaughter lambs sold at $19-22 and cull and utility grades at $15-19 with the market weak. Ewes were $5-8.

COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed 55 to 70 cents a bale higher in slow dealings Friday.

The expanding cotton harvest, slow conditions in the primary spot coton markets and in cotton textiles curtailed trading interest in futures. However, prices improved after a barely steady start as mill and New Orleans buying found offerings light.

Traders continued to even up holdings in nearby October futures in anticipation of first notice day on Sept. 24. Certificated cotton stocks again inched upward and currently total 41,471 bales.

Temperatures over a wide section of the cotton belt were cool which was considered unfavorable for cotton growth.

Futures closed 55 to 70 cents a bale higher than the previous close.
